

Pine Manor College Bulletin

Summer 1981

International students, alumnae, and programs

Pine Manor College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin, age, sex, marital status, as required by Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 and other relevant Federal legislation. Pine Manor College is authorized under Federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien students.

Pine Manor College Bulletin

Summer 1981, Volume XXII, No. 2

(USPS 433-280)

Page 2

Page 8

Page 18

In this issue: International students, alumnae, and programs

Alumnae from Abroad

Seven international alumnae talk about Pine Manor, their lives, families, and careers. Page 2.

A "Living National Treasure"

In June, the American Institute of Textile Arts at Pine Manor hosted Mrs. Setsu Maeda from Japan, a specialist in Kogin embroidery. Page 8.

Pine Manor's "United Nations"

Conversations with students from Colombia, the Netherlands Antilles, Ethiopia, Japan, Iran, and Thailand shed light on what it can be like to be an international student at Pine Manor. Page 10.

For the Woman Who Wants to Study English: The International Language Institute

Pine Manor creates a new program of intensive English language instruction for international women. Page 16.

Commencement: The Seventieth Year

The address of speaker Charlayne Hunter-Gault and the presentation of the College's first honorary degrees were highlights of the 1981 Commencement exercises. Page 18.

Departments

On Campus. Page 23.

Alumnae News. Page 27.

Published by Pine Manor College, 400 Heath Street, Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts 02167, four times a year, in fall, winter, spring, and summer. Second-class postage paid at Boston, Massachusetts.

POSTMASTER: Send address changes to Pine Manor College, 400 Heath Street, Chestnut Hill, MA 02167.

Editor Allison Funk Reingold

Assistant Editor Jean M. Remillard

Editorial Advisors Jane Christopher, Beth Steffian

Photographers Stuart Bratesman, Jon Chase, Eddie Figueroa, Bradford F. Herzog, Jack Kausch, Allison Funk Reingold, Jean M. Remillard

Cover A sample of Kogin embroidery, an ancient art of Japanese peasant embroidery

Alumnae from Abroad

by Allison Funk Reingold

In 1980, the Marquesa Masauje Hachisuka (Chiye Nagamine), our first Japanese alumna, returned to Pine Manor to celebrate her fiftieth Reunion.

Although most other international alumnae have been unable to return to the College, many have been enthusiastic supporters of Pine Manor in their own lands. From Hong Kong to Switzerland and beyond, international alumnae have fond memories of their years at Pine Manor: a college which has always offered a particularly supportive environment to young women often thousands of miles from home.

In this article, alumnae from abroad talk about Pine Manor, their lives, families, and careers.

China

Margaret Pei Chuan Lee Seidel, '52

After 30 years in the United States, Margaret Pei Chuan Lee Seidel returned last October to her homeland, the Peoples' Republic of China. The occasion was the first Sino-American symposium on the chemistry of natural products.

Dr. Seidel, assistant professor of chemistry at Montgomery County Community College in Blue Bell, Pennsylvania, left her native Shanghai in 1948 for Hong Kong to escape the Communist takeover of mainland China. Soon thereafter, on the recommendation of a Chinese friend at Dana Hall, she came to the U.S. to attend Pine Manor. She has been living in this country ever since.

After finishing at Pine Manor, Margaret went on to Mount Holyoke where she received a Bachelor's degree in Chemistry in 1954. In 1959 she completed her Ph.D. in Organic Chemistry at Cornell, and then spent the following two years at Stanford University doing post-doctoral work. Margaret's invitation to attend the symposium in Shanghai last year came from a professor of hers at Cornell, the man who served as her dissertation advisor twenty years ago.

Margaret Seidel was one of 15 Americans selected to attend the symposium on the chemistry of natural products sponsored by the U.S. National Science Foundation and the Chinese Academy of Sciences. (Natural products chemistry involves the study of the isolation, structure, and synthesis of materials derived from plants and animals, as well as antibiotics.)

Margaret's visit to Shanghai was also the occasion of a reunion with her oldest brother and sister whom she hadn't seen for close to 32 years. They had stayed on in China after the Revolution while the rest of the family fled to Hong Kong.

Margaret, who has two children, Martin, 16, and Andrew, 18, met her husband while studying at Cornell. Michael Seidel, originally from Germany, is a chemist with Rohm and Haas. For 11 years, she stayed home to raise her two children, returning to her profession in 1972 to teach at Montgomery County Community College.

Dr. Seidel says that she enjoys her present job because of her "love for chemistry and the contact with the students. It is challenging," she says, "to get my students to share some of my enthusiasm for chemistry."

It was, in fact, the enthusiasm of her own teachers at Pine Manor that instilled an interest in chemistry in Margaret Lee Seidel.

"It was Mrs. Greene, my chemistry teacher, and Mrs. Crawford, my physiology teacher, who got me interested in the field of science. Mrs. Crawford even drove me to Mount Holyoke College to have an interview with the director of admissions there. All my women professors, both in Pine Manor and Mount Holyoke, provided me with a role model to emulate academically."

El Salvador

Eva López-Davidson, '79

One of the questions most frequently asked Eva López-Davidson of El Salvador during her first days at Pine Manor was: how did you hear of the College?

"In fact," says Eva, "I had learned of it from many of my Salvadorian friends who were Pine Manor alumnae, and from Mrs. Dorothy Clift [Acting Director of Admissions]. I remember staying after classes were over one day [at the American School in San Salvador] to see the representative from Pine Manor. At that time, I wasn't sure of where I wanted to go to school — a big university, a small college, a co-ed school. Yet after seeing the slides of the campus and talking to Mrs. Clift, I knew Pine Manor was high up on my list. I filled in the application I was given, I sent it, and waited anxiously for the results. I was accepted, and I came to visit the school with my mother. She loved it and so did I. The following fall I was among the many freshmen entering Pine Manor."

Two years later in the spring, Eva stood out at Pine Manor's Commencement when she received the Marie Warren Potter Award for having the highest academic record in two years. She also received prizes for excellence in the study of both French literature and mathematics.

With the encouragement of Pine Manor's French literature instructor, Dr. Mary Gegerias, she went on to Wellesley where she majored in Economics and French, "a fascinating combination," says Eva. During the summer of 1980, she was in Avignon, France, with Bryn Mawr's Institut d'Études Françaises, and now having graduated from Wellesley (as a Wellesley College Scholar) she is off for Europe again — this time to spend a year between college and graduate school at Cordon Bleu, the gourmet cuisine school in Paris.

Eva López-Davidson, '79

"After my year in France," says this energetic young alumna, "I'm applying to Stanford University for a Master's in Latin American Studies. If I'm accepted, that is where I'll probably be from 1982 to 1983. The only way to describe my future (at least in the short-run) is busy!"

Hong Kong

Beverly (Bebe) Pang Zecha, '54

Bebe Zecha's life is truly international in scope. Close to a third of her year is spent in locations around the globe: Japan, Switzerland, Bali, New York, and Honolulu to name a few.

Bebe's husband, Adrian Zecha, is involved in two businesses with worldwide dimensions, and Mrs. Zecha usually accompanies her husband as he moves back and forth over the map. In the publishing domain, Mr. Zecha is director of companies in Japan and Hong Kong which produce industrial, trade, and consumer magazines, as well as books. One of the magazines in which he is involved is Orientations, a beautiful publication which explores the history, art, and cultures of Asia and the Pacific. He is also a director and partner of Regent International Hotels. The newest hotel in the chain, the Hong Kong Regent, opened this year to international acclaim.

In addition to their home in Hong Kong, which they regard as their main domicile, the Zechas maintain an apartment in New York and a house in Bali. The house in Bali, says Bebe, is regarded as "our real and favorite home!"

Born in Hawaii, of Chinese extraction, Bebe Zecha graduated from Honolulu's Punahau School before traveling to the mainland to attend Pine Manor. After studying at Pine Manor, Bebe continued her education at Barnard College, where she majored in English literature. She then returned to Boston to pursue a Harvard-Radcliffe Management Training Program.

Bebe met Adrian Zecha in 1960 during a visit to Hong Kong, and in 1964 they were married in Basle, Switzerland.

An active volunteer, Bebe has collected clothes, toys, and other supplies for refugees from Indo-China. She also tries to spend as much time as possible on her interest in Asian art, in particular, collecting Chinese ceramics.

"The greater part of my life revolves around making our various houses work," says Bebe. "Adrian's schedule, more often than not, is very hectic because in our part of the world, a great deal of business is conducted in a social environment and I must do a lot of entertaining. Approximately one-third of the year is spent traveling, either accompanying Adrian or visiting Ajai [their 11-year-old son] in Switzerland."

Bebe's schedule this summer conjures up airports and passports, taxis, changing currencies and cuisines: there's July in Bali, then on to Maui, Honolulu, New York, and Europe before Bebe Zecha finally sets down in Hong Kong in September.

Japan

Chiye Nagamine Hachisuka, '30

In May of 1980, the Marquesa Masauje Hachisuka, of Japan, traveled halfway around the world for her fiftieth class reunion.

The former Chiye Nagamine graduated from Pine Manor in 1930, becoming the College's first Japanese alumna. She went on to earn her B.A. from Wellesley College.

On her return to Japan she married Masauje Hachisuka, a member of the Japanese nobility whose royal lineage dates back to medieval days.

In Tokyo, Madame Hachisuka is active in events for UNICEF and St. Mary's and St. Andrew's Schools. She also runs the Black and White Ball of the Japanese Animal Welfare Society.

The Marquesa credits her years at Pine Manor for developing her international outlook, and for giving her the strength to endure the war years and the courage to help in rebuilding Japan. She has expressed her loyalty to Pine Manor by donations of books on Japan and a rare edition of Lady Murasaki's diary.

"It is still not common for women to work after having children in Japan. There are some difficulties, and working mothers encounter biased attitudes against them. But to me, there is no other way of life."

Fusako Takemasa Ishibashi, '64

Chiye Nagamine Hachisuka, '30, (center) at her fiftieth reunion.

Fusako Takemasa Ishibashi, '64

"One thing I would like Pine Manor people (especially in the classes of '63, '64, and '65 . . .) to know is how much I appreciated their kind and thoughtful friendship. I enjoyed knowing each of them and spending the most valuable years of my life with them. I later attended some other institutions in the U.S.A., but they are not in any sense comparable," says Fusako Takemasa Ishibashi.

Since 1972, "Sako," as she was called at Pine Manor, has communicated her enthusiasm for the College to prospective students in Japan as the College's Alumnae Admissions Representative in that country. Although her full-time job and family responsibilities keep her extremely busy, Sako makes the time (frequently over lunch hours) to interview Pine Manor applicants from Japan.

For ten years Sako has worked for the Office of Cultural Exchange in the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo. Her title is Senior Japanese Advisor, and her responsibilities include arranging personal, cultural, and educational exchanges between the U.S. and Japan. In the realm of personal exchanges, Sako gives support to Japanese leaders by setting up appointments for them in the U.S. and assisting with travel arrangements. She oversees educational exchanges between the two countries, as well, but she is primarily involved in organizing cultural exchanges.

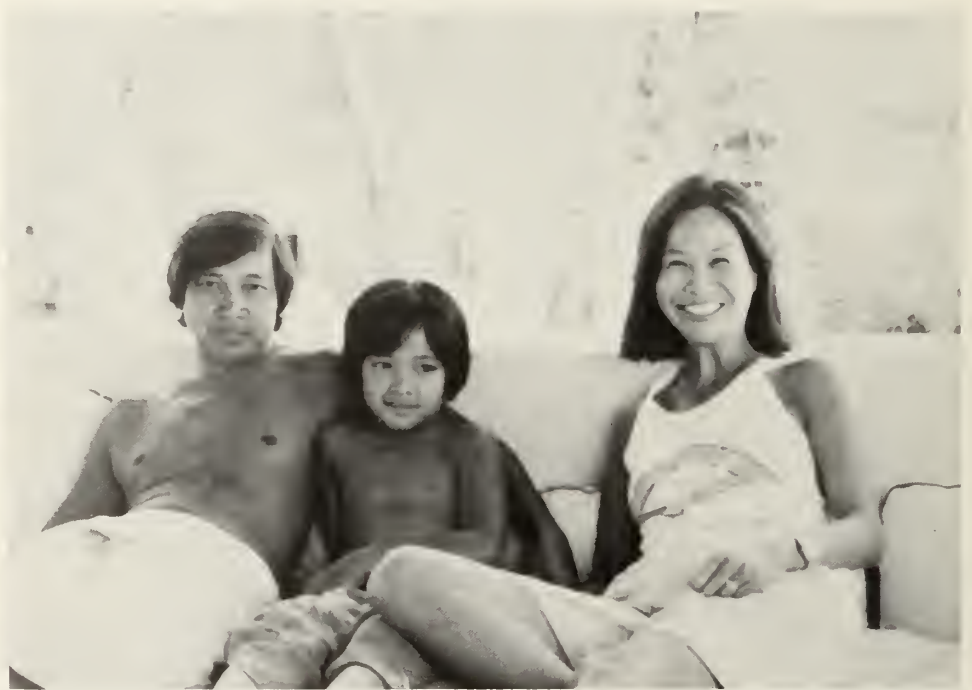

This activity involves bringing American performing artists, musicians, dance groups, and exhibitions to Japan. Sako recently brought the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Boston Symphony to Japan, and an exhibit from the Boston Museum of Fine Arts is planned for the near future.

Sako is an unusual Japanese woman, for in addition to maintaining a highly responsible job she is raising two little boys: Mitsuharu, five years old, and Masaharu, three years old. She finds her two roles quite demanding at times and is thankful for the assistance given her by her supportive husband, Koji.

"It is still not common for women to work after having children in Japan," says Sako. "There are some difficulties, and working mothers encounter biased attitudes against them. But to me, there is no other way of life."

a.

b.

c.

d.

a. Fusako Takemasa Ishibashi, '64

b. Beverly Pang Zecha, '54, with her husband, Adrian, and son, Ajai

c. Margaret Pei Chuan Lee Seidel, '52, with her sons, Andrew and Martin

d. Patara Raiva Sila-On, '61, in her newest restaurant

Switzerland

Patricia Fuchs-Wenzlau, '68

For the better part of the last ten years, Patricia Fuchs-Wenzlau, '68, has been living in Switzerland. Although not Swiss by birth, Patricia has made Geneva her home, having moved there in 1971 with her late husband Roland Fuchs, a Swiss research physicist.

"Wonderful" is the word Patricia uses to describe her job as Assistant Vice President of the Banque de Paris et des Pays-Bas in Geneva, where she specializes in corporate finance within the Investment Banking Division. Her 9 to 10 hour a day job there involves work in three areas: mergers and acquisitions for corporate clients; capital market activities which bring foreign borrowers to the Swiss capital market; and direct investment of the bank's own money for its own account.

The bank recently elected her to the Board of Directors for a holding company, Knoedler-Modarco, Inc., that owns the Knoedler Gallery and the Hammer Gallery in New York City.

In her capacity as a member of the board, Patricia travels to New York four times a year for meetings. The art courses she took at Pine Manor are helpful to her in her position, she says, although her activities on the board center on business and strategies for the company. Patricia holds an M.B.A. from Simmons College.

With her frequent travels to New York, she has the opportunity to see her mother, who maintains an apartment there. During one of these trips, she says, she would also like to find an opportunity "to come back" and visit Pine Manor College.

Thailand

Patara Raiva Sila-On, '61

Eight years ago, Patara Raiva Sila-On opened her first business, a small ice cream shop in Bangkok, Thailand.

Today, she is general manager of S & P Restaurants, a chain which includes two restaurants in Bangkok and a third in the seaside town of Sriracha.

One of the Bangkok restaurants opened just last May and already it is very busy, says Patara of the establishment which seats 100 people. It and the other location in Bangkok serve fast food dishes, baked goods, and ice cream. The S & P Restaurant which seats 150 in Sriracha (about 100 kilometers from Bangkok) specializes in seafood.

When asked how she got started in the restaurant business, Patara Sila-On responded, "I just like to eat!" But, she confesses, "It's quite hard work running a good restaurant."

Patara's is a family business run by the women in the family. Two sisters-in-law and one of Patara Sila-On's sisters participate. "The teamwork is great," she says. One of her sisters is comptroller; another supervises the bakeries; and the third runs a dressmaking boutique which forms another branch of the business.

Patara administers the S & P Restaurants largely from her home, where the youngest of her three sons, Pornvit, 9, is still living with her and her husband, Amaret. The two older boys, Vitoon, 13, and Kamtorn, 11, are in boarding school in England. Her husband is Vice President of Marketing for the Siam Cement Company and is also one of the governors of the American Chamber of Commerce in Thailand, the first Thai to be elected to the board.

Patara Sila-On attributes some of her success to her education overseas which helped her "grow", she says, in many ways. After Pine Manor, Patara took a B.S. degree from Boston University.

"I have often thought and talked about Pine Manor, the prestige and proper care given to the students. I am most fortunate," she says, "to have graduated from such a respectable institute of learning."

A "Living National Treasure"

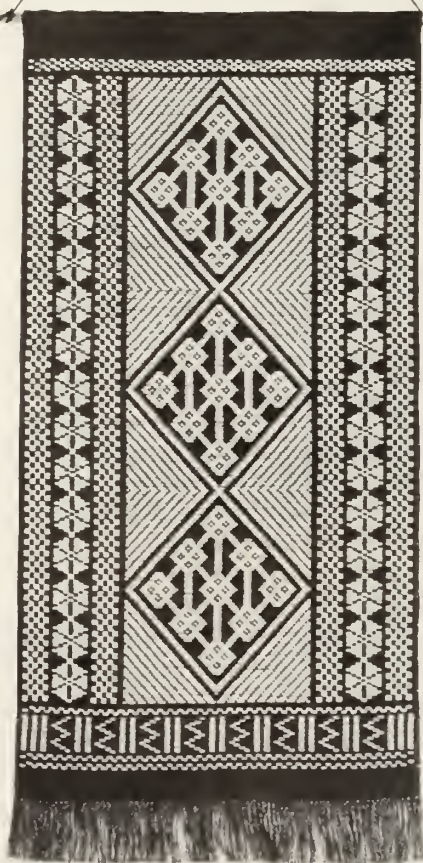

by Jean M. Remillard

Existing side by side with Japan's numerous high technology industries are people who dedicate their lives to preserving the ancient arts of Japan. These people are designated by the Japanese government as "Living National Treasures." These Treasures, seventy in all of Japan, are people who are "Holders of Important Intangible Cultural Properties."

The American Institute of Textile Arts at Pine Manor College was fortunate to have Mrs. Setsu Maeda, a Living National Treasure, as its very special guest at the fourth annual National Textile Arts Assembly held in June.

Mrs. Maeda was officially designated as a Living National Treasure in 1965. Since that time she has traveled throughout Europe and Asia to share her special craft. Her trip to Pine Manor was her first to the United States.

Mrs. Maeda's expertise is in Kogin embroidery, the only form of peasant embroidery in Japan. Communicating through an interpreter, Mrs. Maeda explained that the art of Kogin embroidery developed almost 250 years ago in the northern part of Japan, known at that time as Tsugaru. (The area is known today as the Aomori Prefecture.) Due to class separation, farmers were allowed to wear only dark blue kimonos. To decorate the plain kimonos, white embroidery, called Kogin, was developed. The embroidery was traditionally done during the long winter months, providing a diversion during that season, and the kimonos were worn for special festivals in the spring. It was also customary for a bride-to-be to do embroidery for her future husband. Today Kogin embroidery is becoming very popular and is found on clothing as well as placemats, handbags, belts, and accessories.

Three different kinds of traditional Kogin embroidery were developed. Mishima was developed in the northern part of the region and is characterized by three broad horizontal stripes on the back of the kimono. Nishi embroidery was popular in the western part of the region, and higashi in the eastern area. Because of the regional variations in the embroidery, it was easy to determine where people lived.

During the National Assembly, Mrs. Maeda exhibited ten ancient samples of Kogin embroidery, and many pieces that she has completed. She also led workshops and gave a demonstration of Kogin embroidery.

During the more than two centuries when the shoguns were in power in Japan (1639-1868), the country was closed to the outside world and enjoyed many years of growth and peace. The arts flourished during those years, and the arts from that period are the ones the Living National Treasures are charged with protecting. As recipients of government stipends, they must publicly exhibit their work and teach their artistry to apprentices, thus ensuring that Japan's ancient artistries will never die. The Living National Treasure system has been in existence since the 1950's.

Mrs. Maeda fulfills her mission of preserving the centuries-old art of Kogin embroidery by teaching adults at a Japanese culture center and a local college and instructing children in their schools. She also gives private lessons and travels extensively to share the art form with people from other cultures.

Mrs. Setsu Maeda (right) at Pine Manor's National Textile Arts Assembly

All of the crafts and arts performed by the Living National Treasures are specialties and are very rare. Many are unique to Japanese culture. One man still forges swords fit for a samurai warrior; another makes huge temple bells which create beautiful sounds likened to the voice of Buddha; a musician keeps alive the music of the koto, a harp-like instrument with thirteen strings stretched over an oblong box; and a ceramic artist perpetuates a lost art.

In Japan, these Holders of Important Intangible Cultural Properties are revered by everyone. They are addressed as sensei — teacher, and all have attained Japan's highest award in the arts.

A contemporary purse (above) and dresses (below) decorated with Kogin embroidery.

Pine Manor's "United Nations"

Conversations with international students on campus

In the spring I spoke with six of Pine Manor's 139 international students about their experiences at the College. As I questioned them I tried to determine what it's like to be an international student on campus. What kind of intercultural sharing exists here? What is the relationship between international students and members of the faculty and staff? Do our international women find life in the United States radically different from life at home?

Six very different personalities emerged from the conversations reported below. A.F.R.

How did you hear of Pine Manor College?

Gilda Rosenberg, Cali, Colombia

Most international students hear of Pine Manor College from friends, alumnae admissions representatives in the students' native countries, or traveling recruiters from Pine Manor's own admissions office.

Gilda Rosenberg, '84, of Cali, Colombia, learned of the College through another source: her mother, Mery Perczek Rosenberg, a Pine Manor alumna from the class of 1962. It was Mrs. Rosenberg who encouraged Gilda to attend Pine Manor.

"She loved it," said Gilda. "She especially liked the small college arrangement, and she liked being in touch with the teachers."

Gilda, the first "second generation" student at Pine Manor from Latin America, is unusual for some other reasons, as well. At the age of 13 she came to the United States to study at Lawrence Academy in Groton, Massachusetts. She completed high school there in two years, skipping ninth and twelfth grades to enter Pine Manor at age 16.

Gilda is bilingual, speaking perfect Spanish and English. Her father, an American originally from New York, is the owner of a large machinery company named Fablamp which is based in Colombia.

Gilda Rosenberg, B.A. '84, and Mery Perczek Rosenberg, '62

At Pine Manor, Gilda said, her strongest subjects are Business and Economics, and she plans on being a Business major. She would like to work for her father, either in Colombia or in one of his branches in the U.S. or Europe.

Professional tennis is also a tempting option for Gilda. She loves sports: "You name it, I play it," she said. Her athletic abilities were demonstrated in basketball and tennis at Pine Manor her freshman year.

With her perfect English and the influence of an American father, Gilda could be mistaken for an American student. However, she is sensitive to the differences between international students and American students. "There's such a contrast in values," she said. "If you take an American girl and a Colombian girl, they've been brought up in totally different environments."

What is it like to be an international student at Pine Manor?

Rusette Arends, Netherlands Antilles

"I wouldn't have traded the two years I've been at Pine Manor for anything," said Rusette Arends, A.A. '81. "It's been so special, because here I am a person and the teachers know me . . . I can talk to anybody and they listen."

Rusette, whose home is in Aruba, concentrated in biology for her A.A. This fall she will be at Wheaton College where she plans to continue her study of biology. Physical therapy and pediatric medicine are two career alternatives she is seriously considering.

Rusette is very glad that as a freshman she came to Pine Manor. Among other reasons, she mentioned that the two years at the College close to Boston had given her the opportunity to get to know the city well.

In conversation it became clear that Rusette felt the people at Pine Manor are really concerned about "taking care" of their international students.

"I really feel this," she said, "because they spend the time; they have a special international house; they have an international counselor. They show you that they know you're special people and that you need special attention."

What kind of intercultural communication exists on Pine Manor's campus?

Husnia Yusuf, Harar, Ethiopia

Husnia Yusuf, B.A. '81, has enjoyed the internationalism of Pine Manor, which she likens to the "United Nations."

Husnia has been an active member of Pine Manor's International Club and Ujima, an organization of Third World students from South America, Asia, and Africa. Often in Ujima, said Husnia, the discussions focus on the status of women in these areas. Such exchanges lead to greater understanding among international students of the role of women in different cultures.

In 1975 when Husnia graduated from her high school in Harar, Ethiopia, the war in that country made it impossible for her to go to college there. So she came to Boston where she had some family — a cousin who is a professor at Boston University.

Husnia Yusuf, B.A. '81

During her first year in Boston, she studied at Roxbury Community College. That year she learned of Pine Manor through Naima Hasci, '76, a Somalian student studying at the College.

"Before I came to Pine Manor I applied to many schools, but from among them I chose Pine Manor," she said. "I chose Pine Manor because it's a small school with small classes and therefore I could get more attention since English is my second language"

Husnia mentioned that her English was not "that good" when she came to the U.S., but by taking composition and writing courses while she was in Roxbury Community College she could bypass ESL when she arrived at Pine Manor. "By the time I finished one year (at Roxbury) I was ready to write and to understand English."

Husnia, who majored in Business Management at Pine Manor, plans to do graduate work in Business with a specialty in Accounting.

Husnia also indicated that she was pleased that some American students at Pine Manor express an interest in the countries represented by the College's international student body.

"Some of them are very curious to know about other countries, other cultures," said Husnia. "They ask questions. They want to get answers. And that's nice."

Sachiko Kobayashi, B.A. '83

How does the U.S. seem to differ the most from your home country?

Sachiko Kobayashi, Tokyo, Japan

Sachiko Kobayashi, class of 1983, believes that the lives of women in Japan and the United States are significantly different from each other.

"American women," she said, "have much more freedom in their lives. American women are always thinking about their own lives, their own work, their own business I think most Japanese young ladies dream about getting married and then having children and taking care of their children I think it is changing, but it is still conservative there."

Sachiko's own mother works, however, and has perhaps served as a role model for her daughter. Her mother, who was previously a teacher of English in Japan, now operates her own school to help prepare Japanese students for university entrance examinations.

Sachiko, who is working toward a B.A. in Business Management, is also considering a career in an educational setting, one which would further exchanges between the United States and Japan.

According to Sachiko, who graduated from a junior college in Japan before coming to Pine Manor, "At the junior college from which I graduated, many students want to go to universities and colleges in America. If eventually I could get a position in my college and also have some connection to Pine Manor College, I'd like to have the students involved in an exchange."

Have you found the faculty to be supportive?

Maryam Elahi, Tehran, Iran

"What's so special about Pine Manor," said Maryam Elahi, A.A. '81, is that "it brings out your own potential."

She has been particularly pleased with the members of Pine Manor's faculty.

"When you see they care so much, the teachers are no longer just teachers, they're your friends. You feel like you're letting them down if you don't give them all you've got. So you try harder.

"When they write 'excellent' or 'good job' on a paper you've written it means more than the grade, because you know they care for you as a person."

Maryam has excelled in academics at Pine Manor. A High Honors student who graduated in May with an A.A. in Biology, Maryam will be attending Williams College in the fall. There she plans to major in Biology in preparation for medical school. Her ambition is to become a neurosurgeon.

Outside the classroom, Maryam played varsity basketball and was actively involved in a number of major campus organizations, clubs and committees, including the French Club, the Academic Ethics Committee, the Student Retention Committee and the International Club, of which she was president.

Maryam Elahi, A.A. '81, and Rusette Arends, A.A. '81 (foreground)

If Maryam thanks Pine Manor for helping to bring out her "potential," Pine Manor is grateful to her for the contributions she has made to campus life. In May at Commencement, the College expressed its gratitude to Maryam by presenting her with the President's Cup, an award reserved for an exceptional sophomore.

"As she leaves Pine Manor to continue her education in the sciences," said President Ashby of Maryam Elahi, "the world is truly her oyster."

How is Pine Manor preparing you for a career?

Daranee Panyarachun, Bangkok, Thailand

Daranee Panyarachun, '83, is taking a double major at Pine Manor in Developmental Psychology and Business.

This course of study, in conjunction with possible graduate work in Psychology, should prepare Daranee for a future position as an administrator of a facility for mental patients, a career she is intensely interested in pursuing.

According to Daranee, there is no place for mental patients in Thailand other than in regular hospitals. The hospitals are not equipped, she said, to handle mental patients. Daranee is interested in the introduction of alternative facilities which would be separate from the hospital environment and would be staffed with doctors and nurses specially trained to handle mental patients, not patients with appendicitis, she said.

Before coming to Pine Manor, Daranee lived in Ottawa, New York, and Washington because of her father's foreign service posts in those cities. Her father, Anand Panyarachun, was the Thai ambassador to the United States, to Canada, and to West Germany before his retirement from the government.

Daranee, however, does not plan to settle in this hemisphere; she wants very much to return to Thailand to try to better the lives of the mentally ill in her country. There should be a place, she said, for them to go where they can be well taken care of.

Daranee Panyarachun, B.A. '83

International Life at Pine Manor

International Student Advisor: Rita Ranucci

Last year Rita Ranucci, Pine Manor's International Student Advisor, arranged a workshop on culture shock for the College's resident advisors.

A Japanese student started the session off by teaching all the participants the names of the months in Japanese. For the next 30 minutes the resident advisors were allowed to "converse" only in Japanese, relying on their newly learned vocabulary of only 12 words and the language of the body to communicate. The exercise caused the R.A.'s to temporarily sense the frustration experienced on a daily basis by international students who come to Pine Manor with little command of the English language.

With the assistance of Rita Ranucci and other support staff, Pine Manor tries to ease the way of its international women into the College community and their new country.

Before a student arrives, she receives help in obtaining necessary visas and permits. And, once on campus, she benefits from an orientation program as well as a counseling service provided by Rita Ranucci's office throughout the academic year.

The International Club

The International Club is an organization that welcomes both international and American students. Its goal is to unite people with different cultural backgrounds.

In 1981, under the leadership of President Maryam Elahi from Iran, described by Rita Ranucci as an "idea factory," the club sponsored many innovative programs and events, including a series of international banquets. Most notably, last year the club adopted three international foster children: an eight-year-old boy from India, a 10-year-old girl from Thailand, and an eight-year-old girl from Colombia.

Babel

Babel is the name of the international student newspaper at Pine Manor. In 1981-82 Daranee Panyarachun, of Thailand, will serve as editor of the paper whose goal is to "unite all international students in one language — English." The paper serves as a forum for international students who wish to share information about their countries, their families, and traditions. It also allows them to exchange perspectives on American life and the traumas of homesickness and culture shock. Babel publicizes events with an international focus both on campus and in the greater Boston area, and it prints information of very practical value on such subjects as summer work and visas.

The International House

The International House provides a residential setting for intercultural communication among members of Pine Manor's student body. About half of the 35 to 40 students are American; half are from other countries. Working with Mary Detweiler, the resident counselor, the students organize in-house and all-campus programs, such as lectures and slide shows, designed to increase the College community's understanding of political and cultural events in other countries. A Pine Manor trustee, Mr. John E. Miller, recommended the creation of the International House in 1979. His perceptive suggestion has fostered many lasting friendships between American and international students.

Ujima

Ujima, which means "collective work and responsibility," is the social and cultural organization of Third World students from Latin America, Asia, and Africa. The organization strives to create a friendly bond between its members and other students by sponsoring social, cultural, and educational activities and programs. One of the goals of Ujima is to sensitize others to issues affecting Third World communities.

For the Woman Who Wants to Study English: The International Language Institute

In June, students from Japan, Venezuela, Spain, and Peru began arriving on campus to participate in a new program of intensive English language instruction at Pine Manor: the International Language Institute.

The creation of the International Language Institute (ILI) represents an expansion of Pine Manor's existing program in English as a Second Language (ESL). That program, which has been in place since 1975, has provided credit courses in English to international students whose English is at the intermediate or advanced level.

With the introduction of non-credit courses at elementary and lower intermediate levels offered through the ILI, Pine Manor now has a full-scale international program for women, one which is unique in the New England area.

"Pine Manor College has a great deal to offer international women," says President Rosemary Ashby. "First, it has an established international program with an appropriate curriculum and special services. Second, it has an English as a Second Language program which is both residential and exclusively for women. Third, it can now address the needs of all language students, regardless of level, through the International Language Institute. Our location, campus, academic programs, and single-sex status are all appealing to international students."

In January and February, President Ashby made a trip to Southeast Asia, visiting Tokyo, Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, Bangkok, and Hong Kong.

"There is enormous interest in U.S. education throughout this area," she says. "Looking ahead, countries like Singapore, Malaysia, and Hong Kong, once bastions of English, expect a decline in English language skills as more local schools use languages other than English to teach most of their courses. The internal changes in language requirements in these countries will increase the need for programs such as those offered by the International Language Institute."

Rita Ranucci, International Student Advisor (center), and Sally Pym, Director of the ILI (right), welcoming students to the ILI.

Another trip to publicize the ILI was made to nine cities in Latin America during the spring. In 1981-82, trips are planned to Europe, the Far East, and Latin America.

President Ashby's trip to the Far East was sponsored by the First Gulf Bank and Trust (W.I.) Limited, of which Dr. Cyrus Hashemi is President and Chief Executive Officer. Dr. Hashemi, originally of Iran, is the father of Mercedeh, class of 1984, and a member of the Advisory Board of the ILI, a committee which utilizes the expertise, contacts, and financial backing of friends of the College.

Other members of the Board include Jeno Paulucci, Mary Foo Lee, and Lucio Michaelis. Mrs. Lee, a former teacher now living in Wellesley, Massachusetts, served from 1968 to 1973 as the Executive Secretary of the School Committee for the Institute of International Education in Hong Kong. Mr. Paulucci and Mr. Michaelis both have daughters at Pine Manor: Gina Paulucci and Alexandra Michaelis, in the class of 1984. Mr. Paulucci, of Minnesota, is the founder of Jeno's Inc. and Chun King; Mr. Michaelis is General Manager of Elusan LTDA in Colombia.

The ILI program is conducted on a continuing basis, with openings at the beginning of each month during the summer, and in September, January, and April during the academic year. Classes are held five days a week, facilitating rapid progress in English. "Two weeks of such study in the United States is equal to one year of English language instruction in foreign countries," says Sally Pym, the Director of the Institute.

The presence of international students on campus, says President Ashby, benefits the College's American student body in many ways.

"In our world today, an international perspective will soon be as important as computer literacy and writing skills," says Mrs. Ashby. The global understanding which grows from exposure to other cultures, she says, is particularly needed now in the United States.

"The ILI also gives Pine Manor a forum," says the President, "for the views, skills, and support of many of our international parents and alumnae, and a way of calling upon them for involvement in a new sphere of activity for the College."

A.F.R.

Commencement: The Seventieth Year

Charlayne Hunter-Gault, 1981 Commencement speaker

You have worked hard to get where you are today. At the same time the status you will assume now as part of the reward for your work carries with it a moral responsibility — that is the responsibility to use that status as an instrument to open doors for others — doors of opportunity as well as of understanding. It is my hope that in this next phase of the American revolution, you will summon the conviction, the commitment, and the courage to assume that responsibility no matter where the pursuits of your own personal dreams may take you. Color that emotion Evergreen!

These words, concluding Charlayne Hunter-Gault's Commencement address, rang out over the lawn in front of Ellsworth Hall on the cool, bright day of May 18. It was a speech intended to inspire the 210 graduates gathered to receive their degrees, to inspire them to respond to problems arising out of human need.

Ms. Hunter-Gault, correspondent for "The MacNeil-Lehrer Report," public television's nightly news and analysis program, described the reality confronting Pine Manor's graduates: a world which includes the "swirling movement of refugees in places like Cambodia, Cuba, and Somalia"; "controversies over dwindling petroleum resources"; and questions like "Is there going to be enough food?" "Enough housing?" "The problems that emerge out of those kinds of tensions," she said, "will ultimately touch us all one way or another."

Ms. Hunter-Gault was personally affected by the tensions of another era. Nearly twenty years ago she received national visibility when she entered the University of Georgia under court order. For its 175-year history, the University had refused to admit blacks. When she was finally ordered in by a federal judge, said Ms. Hunter-Gault, she was the first and only black woman in a school of 20,000 students.

Her first night at the University, said Ms. Hunter-Gault, a mob of hundreds of students "attacked the dormitory in which I was living, hurling bricks and bottles through my window and threatening to kill me if I showed my face. A night to remember. A night one wished to be able to forget."

After she graduated in 1963 with a degree in journalism, Charlayne Hunter-Gault worked as a reporter for the New Yorker magazine, then won a Russell Sage Fellowship at Washington University. In 1967 she was co-anchor of the evening news on WRC-TV, NBC's affiliate in Washington, D.C. She joined the staff of the New York Times in 1968, where she specialized in coverage of the urban black community. She was there until 1976, except for 15 months when, on leave of absence, she served as co-director of the Michele Clark Fellowship program for minority journalists at Columbia University.

While the circumstances that fashioned her "commitment to equity, justice and human compassion" might differ from those that affect young women today, said Ms. Hunter-Gault, "the need for a continuing commitment still exists . . . it is a commitment that must transcend the trends and fashions and politics that distract us everyday."

B.A. graduates, Cynthia Taft, Carole Pelletier, and Sheryl Spiotta

Honorary Degrees

College history was made on May 18, 1981 when Pine Manor presented its first honorary degrees: A Doctor of Arts to actress Dorothy McGuire, class of 1930, and a Doctor of Letters to Frederick Carlos Ferry, Jr., former President of Pine Manor College.

Ms. McGuire (Mrs. John Swope) is perhaps best known for her role in the 1943 David O. Selznick production of "Claudia." Other films in which she appeared include: "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" (1944); "The Enchanted Cottage" (also 1944); "The Spiral Staircase" (1945); "Claudia and David" (1946); "Gentleman's Agreement" (1947), which won her an Oscar nomination; and "Friendly Persuasion" with Gary Cooper (1955) for which she was voted best actress by the National Board of Review. In recent years, she has appeared in several television roles, including the ABC serialization of Irwin Shaw's "Rich Man, Poor Man," and a theatre production of Tennessee Williams' "Night of the Iguana."

Frederick Carlos Ferry, Jr., served as the fourth president of Pine Manor College from 1956 to 1974. It was he who engineered the College's historic move from Wellesley to Chestnut Hill in 1965. His citation at Commencement read in part: "Of you we can say, as his son said of Christopher Wren, builder of St. Paul's Church in London: 'Si monumentum requiris, circumspecte.' ('If you require a monument, look around.')

Frederick Carlos Ferry, Jr., former Pine Manor President and William Paul Person, retiring Vice President for Operations

Distinguished Service Awards

Three special awards for distinguished service to Pine Manor were also presented at Commencement. Honored were Margaret Hobbs Traylor, Thomas Benton Pegg, and William Paul Person.

"When President Ferry decided to separate this college from Dana Hall Schools, Inc." said President Ashby, who presented the award to Margaret Traylor, "he needed a sounding board, a staunch cohort, a fellow believer in his dream of independence for our college. This he found in Peg, then a Trustee of Dana Hall, the mother of six children, but no family ties with Pine Manor other than her willingness to join the great enterprise of the move to Chestnut Hill."

Thomas Benton Pegg, instructor of theatre arts and speech retired in May after twenty years of service to Pine Manor.

His citation read, in part: "A teacher can only hope that he has taught the joy of learning, the satisfaction of hard work, the pleasure of success however large or small. . . . Especially indebted to you are the scores of successful students who have gone on to . . . lives in the theatre at every level and who thank you from the bottom of their hearts every working day. . . . You will carry with you our warmest thanks, our respect and our love."

The third distinguished service award went to William Paul Person, the retiring Vice President of the College. For twenty-two years, said the President, "He has tirelessly and brilliantly overseen the operations of Pine Manor College."

"The miracle of Pine Manor," she continued, "is that we have survived the seventies and stand poised on the threshold of a new era, with not just a new degree capacity but a first-rate physical plant that is still growing, and a campus as handsome as any in the land. Much of this is the result of the quiet, persistent work of our Vice President for Operations."

Student Awards

The College presented a number of awards to students on May 18. Of those, special mention should be made of four.

The Endowed Marie Warren Potter Award bears the name of a distinguished President who led the College for 22 years. It recognizes that member of the class graduating with an A.A. degree who has achieved the highest academic record in her two years at Pine Manor. In 1981 the award went to Marlene Bryant. Marlene will be attending Harvard University in the fall.

The Pine Manor College Faculty Award goes to the B.A. graduate with the highest academic average at the time of graduation. The award was presented to Bette Ferris.

The President's Cup is awarded only in years when, in the opinion of the President, after consultation with officers and members of the faculty and staff, a sophomore has demonstrated a truly unusual combination of outstanding citizenship, academic achievement, and deep concern for the best interests of the College throughout her two years at Pine Manor. The award was presented to Maryam Elahi, who is continuing her education in Biology at Williams College.

The Pine Manor College Award is given to a senior who has, in the opinion of the faculty and staff, made a truly outstanding contribution to the College and to her peers throughout her four years at the school. This year, the student selected was Sarah Chase Acer. Sarah has been accepted into a graduate program in French at Middlebury College.

Other Graduation Awards

The Constance Grosvenor Alexander Award for Distinction in English: Erin Nagle

The Clara Torey Clement Award for Distinction in Art History: Marjorie Bullock

The Sybill Webb Dougherty Award for Distinction in Voice: Harriet Spencer

Beatrice Lynn Reichel, A.A. '81, B.A. '83, with her father, Trustee Frank H. Reichel, Jr.

The Dorothy McGuire Acting Award: Carol Ann Brown

The Camille M. Roth Memorial Lacrosse Award: Lynn Reichel

The Ruth Woodman Russell Award for Distinction in History: Bette Ferris

The Amy Evelyn Steward Award for Distinction in French: Suzanne Allen

The Henry K. White Award for Distinction in Athletics: Anne Bryan

The Ruth Ann Houck Sleeper Scholarship Award to a Freshman who has shown outstanding promise in the study of Music: Lei Cui-Mei

The Mary Gegerias Endowed Scholarship Fund: Suzanne Allen and Catherine Dick

The Marie Pate Award for Excellence in New England History: Tracy Ann Brown

The B.A. Award for Distinction in Developmental Psychology: Jennifer Johnson

The B.A. Award for Distinction in American Studies: Marilyn Miller and Bette Ferris

The B.A. Award for Distinction in Business Management: Anne Bryan, Cynthia Cotton, and Suzanne Currier

The Drama and Speech Award in Theatre: Tracy Ann Budd

Award for Excellence in the Study of French: Susan Christiansen

Award for Distinction in Psychology: Darane Panyarachun and Sarah Bliss

Award for Distinction in Science: Maryam Elahi

Award for Distinction in Sociology: Karen Richmond and Carole Pelletier

A Conversation with Dorothy McGuire

Allison Reingold: Ms. McGuire, I want to tell you that everyone at Pine Manor is very excited that you are here to receive the College's first Doctor of Arts. How do you feel coming back to Pine Manor College?

Dorothy McGuire: I am really honored. This is a thrill for me for many reasons. I hadn't been back, and of course, there is a whole new college here at Chestnut Hill which is beautiful. And it was moving and encouraging at the Convocation today to see all those young people, and that marvelous burst of energy that you see in young people, and to realize that they're going on into a new age, truly a new age, a new period.

Does it make you reflect on when you were a student at Pine Manor?

Yes, it was a very pleasant experience. Of course, I was at Pine Manor when it was at Wellesley and it was a two-year college, and now you're a four-year college and doing all sorts of wonderful things. I remember it with affection. I liked it very much, indeed, and I had good teachers.

Were you active in the theatre when you were at Pine Manor?

Yes. I was in Mimes and Masques, and we did several productions.

Did you know when you were at Pine Manor that you would be an actress?

Yes, but it was before that. We had a very energetic, dynamic theatre in Omaha, our community playhouse. But even before that when I was in grammar school, or grade school, I was always making up plays, and directing and acting in them. It was just part of my day, you know. And fortunately, and I do think this is the point of the story, we had a principal who recognized that I had something and sent me over to the Omaha Playhouse. And that's how I began — someone cared and took the step to give a young person a start.

Actress Dorothy McGuire, '30, recipient of the first honorary Doctor of Arts

What did you do after you graduated from Pine Manor?

Well, actually, I've been extremely fortunate as the story is spun out — I really had no problems getting a job in New York. Immediately after I finished here, I went to New York and I was, in quotes, "lucky." People always say, "Well there is some background to that," but it was a completely different period of time. Now when young people are in the theatre, I think, it is much more difficult, for many reasons. We're in a rough economic period, so there are fewer chances. The plays slim down a little — they are two-character plays instead of the large plays that many of us knew in the old days. The competition is greater, and the tickets are very expensive. But in spite of all that, as I recall, during periods of stress or distress or whenever it's rough as far as money is concerned, the arts can always survive. Sometimes it's a high period of creativity, because you just darn well get on with the story, and then you are really put to creating. You make do with what you have.

I remember seeing a brilliant presentation by Balanchine during a period not unlike this when money was short and the theatre, I guess, had run out, which is easy to do. There was no set. Now it would not seem so uncommon, but in those days it was unique — they all wore leotards and that's all. There was no elaborate costuming and what happened was that your focus went completely on to the dancing and the creativity and it was a wonderful, exhilarating experience.

So this period is a difficult one for the arts, particularly since funding is being cut, but I have enough confidence in our country . . . that we will be able to turn it around and make something good come out of it.

New B.A. Programs: Biological Psychology and Visual Arts

In response to a predicted 57 per cent increase in health science positions during the next decade and a stated need by students and faculty for a B.A. program with substantial course work in the areas of biology and psychology, Pine Manor has developed a new B.A. degree program in Biological Psychology. This new program in a relatively new field will seek to explain certain aspects of behavior which can be studied and understood from a biological perspective. It will be available in September of 1981 and will prepare students for most programs in medicine, nursing, physical therapy, and other related health sciences fields. Also, the new B.A. program is a perfect complement to, and continuation of, the A.S. degree in Health Sciences.

The creation of a new B.A. degree program in the Visual Arts confirms the importance the Visual Arts have enjoyed in the 70-year history of Pine Manor College. The program was designed to meet the needs of two kinds of students: women who want to become practicing artists and designers, and others who do not plan to become artists, but who wish to work in a field such as publishing, arts management, or retailing, where knowledge of the visual arts is important.

The Abercrombie Fine Arts Wing houses sculpture, design, drawing, painting, and printmaking studios; a photo lab with three individual darkrooms (including one for color work); and a general purpose darkroom with eight enlargers.

New Appointments

With the retirement of William Person, Paul T. Kirk has assumed the position of Vice President for Operations. Mr. Kirk, who has been at the College since 1961 as Comptroller, was promoted to his new position on July 1, 1981. He is the College's Chief Business Officer and oversees its daily operations. A graduate of Bentley College, he is a member of the Eastern Association of College and University Business Officers (EACUBO).

Paul T. Kirk, new Vice President for Operations

Allison Funk Reingold has been appointed Director of Publications and Publicity. A Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University, she received her Master of Fine Arts degree from Columbia University. Previously, she taught writing at the University of Delaware and at Goldey Beacom College, also in Delaware. Before that she was Public Relations Director for the Chesapeake Bay Girl Scout Council in Wilmington, Delaware, and was a writer and Account Executive with Communications Consultants, an advertising agency in the same city. In 1979 she received an Individual Artist Fellowship for writing from the Delaware Arts Council. This is the second issue of the Bulletin edited by Ms. Reingold.

New and Retired Trustees, A New Chairman of the Board

Each new year brings retirements and new additions to the Board of Trustees at the College. After many dedicated years, the following Board members have retired: Louise Cummings Brinsley, '60; Louise Lykes Ferguson, '32; Sally Heathman Harrington, '51; Elise Elkins Joseph, '70; Elizabeth Harnischfeger Ogden, '41; and Slocumb Hollis Perry, '69. Pine Manor College is indeed grateful for their support and commitment.

New members of the Board, bringing with them their own unique talents to add to Pine Manor's strengths, are: Betts Neuhaus Armstrong, '75;

Robert Larsen, new Chairman of the Board of Trustees

Joan Bryan Lewis, mother of Cecily, '81; Dr. Marvin Minsky; Dr. Paul Rahmeier; J. Deane Somerville, and Constance Hess Williams, '64.

The new Chairman of the Board is Robert Larsen. A partner with the law firm of Rogers and Wells in New York, Mr. Larsen has been on the Board since 1979. He is the father of Brooke Larsen, '80, and a native of Wisconsin. He received his B.S. degree from the University of Wisconsin and his J.D. degree from the University of North Carolina.

It is important, says Mr. Larsen, "to preserve and build upon the traditional strengths of Pine Manor College by maintaining its strong liberal arts orientation and a community environment fostering individual growth and achievement. At the same time, we need to give recognition to the changing role of women in our society through expanded career oriented course offerings, increased emphasis on work internship programs, and the education of a whole person who can meet the challenges of the 1980's."

Summer Sessions

"Summer on an 80-Acre Campus in Boston" the poster said. So began the campaign to inform the public and Pine Manor College students that Pine Manor would, for the first time in its history, offer academic courses for full credit through a summer sessions program. And it was a tremendous success!

The idea of a summer program originated in the Academic Dean's Office in November of 1980. By the spring, a newspaper and radio advertising campaign was informing the public of the new summer program, and a poster and a summer catalog had been created." Establishing our Summer Sessions Program put us in the ranking with other four-year institutions who traditionally have a summer school," said Eva Kampits, Academic Dean.

There were 124 enrollments for the 18 courses offered in the summer. Seventy-four of the students were full-time Pine Manor students, and Boston University, Babson, Mount Ida, Simmons, and Bentley Colleges were also represented.

"Some of our summer school students were members of the 1981-82 Freshman class, so it was an exciting opportunity for them to be on campus before they began the regular academic year," Dean Kampits said. "Along with the traditional students, several Open College students, an employee, and a trustee also took advantage of the summer courses, and three former students who took courses have re-enrolled in the College! Also, qualified high school students were admitted to the courses and were challenged to achieve academic success on the college level," the Dean reported.

Following the success of this first year, next summer's sessions will be held from May 31 to July 1, and July 5 through August 5.

Dane Science Lecture

The Dane Science Lecture, presented annually to commemorate the dedication in 1977 of the Ernest Blaney Dane, Jr., Microbiology Laboratory at Pine Manor College, was held on March thirty-first.

The distinguished speaker for the lecture was Dr. Patrick H. Winston, a prominent computer scientist in the field of Artificial Intelligence. Dr. Winston is an associate professor in the Department of Electrical Engineering and Computer Sciences at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is also Director of the Artificial Intelligence Laboratory at MIT, whose purpose is to make computers more useful and to understand the principles which make intelligence possible. Dr. Winston has also written and edited several books concerning artificial intelligence.

Dr. Winston's lecture was entitled: "Intelligent Machines: How They Work and How They Affect Your Life." The presentation discussed how it is possible for machines to understand English and reason from experience. Attending the lecture were members of the Dane family, including Mrs. Ernest B. Dane and Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. George (Helen Dane, '65) with their son, Timothy.

Faculty and Administration News

Martha Cain, an Instructor in the Visual Arts Department of Pine Manor, this summer exhibited a series of portrait drawings throughout the Boston area. Shows at the Helen Shlein Gallery and the Crieiger Sisen Gallery in Boston as well as the Loeb Drama Center and Gallery 57 in Cambridge have all exhibited drawings from an unusual series completed by Ms. Cain. Artists and supporters of the arts are the subjects of the thirty drawings in the series.

"Artists are often not as valued as they should be," says Ms. Cain, whose portraits depict visual artists, opera singers, musicians, film makers, actors and actresses in Massachusetts. Her goal for the series is to call public attention to their contributions as well as those of supporters of the arts. (Ken Krowne, shown on this page, is a patron of the arts.) Her drawings, all done in charcoal, are very large, ranging in size from 26 by 40 inches to four by seven feet.

Peggy Kaufman, Director of the Child Study Center at Pine Manor has received a grant from the National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH). For the next year she will be working as a Child Development Specialist with a family support project of Cambridge and Somerville. The project is affiliated with Cambridge City Hospital and the Harvard Medical School.

Drawing by Martha Cain: Ken Krowne, supporter of the arts, 39" x 80"

Michele O'Gara, Chairman of the Division of Behavioral and Natural Sciences, was a guest speaker at a national conference entitled: "Health Careers: Prescriptions for the 80s." It was held on March 31 at Cuyahoga Community College in Cleveland, Ohio. She addressed "The Liberal Arts Student and the Health Care Field of the Future," and described Pine Manor's new A.S. degree program in Health Sciences.

Mary Christie and Edrea Grabler, faculty members in the English as a Second Language (ESL) department, made a presentation on "Dealing with Sex Role Stereotypes in the ESL Classroom" at the Massachusetts Association of Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages (MAT-SOL) Conference held at Northeastern University in March. Ms. Grabler was also awarded a scholarship to attend the Summer TESOL (Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages) International Institute at Columbia Teachers College in New York.

Dr. Burnham Carter, Jr., Instructor in English, was recently elected President of the Massachusetts Bay Marine Studies Consortium. The Consortium is an organization of Boston area faculty members interested in all aspects of marine studies. Through the organization, 24 area colleges and the New England Aquarium offer a team-taught, inter-disciplinary course in marine studies. The course is open to two students from each college in the Consortium at no tuition charge. Pine Manor students who have participated in the course include Katie Etzel and Louise Kemler, B.A. '82, Jane Sholem, A.A. '80, and Eileen Hughes, A.A. '81. As President of the Consortium, Dr. Carter steers the Executive Committee, advises the Executive Director, and assists with fundraising.

Judith L. Sanford, Assistant Academic Dean, will chair the session on "Developmental Advising — Theory into Practice" at the 1981 National Conference on Academic Advising (NACADA). The Conference will be held at the Hyatt Regency in Indianapolis, Indiana from October 11 to 14. Ms. Sanford was instrumental in developing and implementing Pine Manor's advising system for students called COMPASS (Comprehensive Advising System for Students). It represents the College's commitment to helping each student direct and integrate her experiences at Pine Manor by becoming more goal-oriented and self-directed. Pine Manor's developmental approach to student advising is one of only a few COMPASS systems in the country.

The President's Lecture Series

In the Fall of 1980, Pine Manor inaugurated the President's Lecture Series. This lecture series brings to campus many distinguished professionals in a variety of fields. The following were lecturers during the past academic year.

On October 21, Mr. Frank Voss opened the series with a lecture entitled "The Role of Corporate Affairs." Mr. Voss is the Vice President for Corporate Affairs of the Dana Corporation in Toledo, Ohio. His lecture was sponsored by the Business Management program and S.A.M., the Society for the Advancement of Management.

Professor Jules Brody of Harvard University was the next speaker for the President's Lecture Series. He discussed, in French, Racine's Phèdre, and in English, "Racine and Shakespeare: A Freudian View."

As was highlighted in the last issue of the Bulletin, Dartmouth College language professor, Dr. John Rassias, delivered a rousing lecture on the "Plight of Foreign Languages in America" on February 23. Later that week, in another part of the celebration of International Week on campus, Michel Butor spoke at the College, his second visit to Pine Manor. M. Butor is an experimental French writer and he delivered a lecture, in French, on "La littérature et la nuit," (Literature and the Night).

To round off the President's Lecture Series for 1980-81, Professor Hermina Sinclair spoke on "Language and Thought." Professor Sinclair studied with and became a colleague of psychologist Jean Piaget. She is currently a professor of psycholinguistics at the School of Psychology and Educational Sciences at the University of Geneva. J.M.R.

In the spring Barbara Tollis, '71, a First Vice-President of Lehman Brothers, a large brokerage firm in New York City, addressed Pine Manor students interested in the brokerage field.

13

News: "At my age, my activities are few, writes Reba Coburn Fox. "I play bridge, read a lot, and spend winters in Florida."

20

News: "We have traveled extensively after my husband, Ben, retired from the management in the engineering department of General Electric," writes Phebe Tinker Harris. "We traveled the Continent, British Isles, Canada, Hawaii, and our wonderful U.S.A. We are active in tennis tournaments and since both of us are in excellent health, gardening, swimming, some golf, tennis, and winter-time skiing keep us busy."

21

Deceased: Frances Cummings Adams from Winnetka, IL, passed away recently. Sincere condolences are expressed from the College and her classmates.

Aileen Cannon Brew passed away in January of 1981. Sincerest condolences.

News: "On January 17, 1981, my oldest grandson was married," says Elizabeth Knowles Noyes. "Needless to say, I had a wonderful time while in California for that wedding! Early in May my second granddaughter graduated from the University of New Hampshire, and on May 22, she and I left for a month in England. In the early fall, my oldest granddaughter will be married and the reception will be held at my house."

Janet McChesney Morgan spent two weeks in England in May, 1980, with a friend. "In March of this year I spent ten days in SC visiting family. Otherwise, I lead a quiet life with good books and needlepoint to keep me busy."

Ruth Harrington Swanson writes, "We moved to California in 1976 to be near our family, and two years later, in June of 1978, my husband passed away very suddenly. Despite my beautiful surroundings here in California, life is very lonely, so I am doing a lot of volunteer work at Stanford University Hospital, the Red Cross Blood Center, and the Americanization Program for aliens coming into this country."

"In March of 1980 I spent a week with a friend in London," writes Katrina Hilker La Ferte. "I hadn't been there since 1926 so it was quite an experience! My daughter Anne's husband was transferred to Europe with his headquarters in Paris, so the family moved there last July. My Christmas present was a trip to visit them. While there we did a great deal of sightseeing. The French Alps were an awesome sight! New Year's Eve was spectacular — beautiful fireworks displayed against the snow-covered mountains and firecrackers just like the old Fourth of July in the States. Living in France, rather than being a tourist, was delightful."

23

News: "I am still living in Rossmoor," writes Nancy Leach Newbury, "but I spend a great deal of time in my cabin on the North Shore of Lake Superior. Helen McLaughlin Krafft, '22, is my next door neighbor. Each winter I rent a condominium in Kihei, on Maui, where I have been going for the past 14 years. In September I became a great-grandmother to identical twin girls!"

24

Class Secretary: Mrs. Walter N. Bangham (Catherine Masters) 162 Marshall Ridge Road New Canaan, CT 06840

News: Nell Barnes Mingus visited Fort Worth, TX, and enjoyed the exhibit of the Chinese Bronze Age. Her next excursion is to a reunion of old Aruba friends in Florida and then to St. Croix to visit her son. In August, Nell hopes to join her daughter in Spain where she will see the home where her daughter and son-in-law plan to retire. Her family includes six children, 17 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Eloise Rubino Nolan is still in the insurance business as a consultant, but she works only one day per week. The rest of her time is spent doing needlepoint, knitting, crocheting, and doing some latchhook rugs and wall hangings. She goes to a Senior Citizen Center once a week for crafts.

Mary Wattles Bryans took many trips in 1980, even after breaking her left wrist. She enjoyed all of them with the help of those on her tours. She had four more grandchildren graduate from high school, and she recently returned from two months in CA after visiting with her sister and her sister's husband.

In March I went to Costa Rica where I had lived in the 40s. Naturally it had changed dramatically — new highways and smart new residential areas. It was a most nostalgic yet exciting visit!

25

Class Secretary: Mrs. Clifford L. Frates (Mex Rodman) 2607 Warwick Drive Oklahoma City, OK 73116

Deceased: Louise Betts Stevens passed away on February 14, 1981. The Class of 1925 and the College wish to express sincere condolences to her family.

News: Carolyn Woolworth Wadsworth writes, "I am currently living in Naples. My husband, Cowles Wadsworth, died on April 12, 1980. Summers are spent in my house in Buffalo, NY. I have a granddaughter who is a lawyer and a grandson who is an accountant."

26

News: "I moved to Gwynedd Estates last spring, a retirement complex in Spring House, PA, and I just love it," writes Helen Taylor Mattox. "Last year I broke my arm and was helpless to do anything! That made me decide to move here, and I would love to see anyone who visits in this area."

27

Class Secretary: Mrs. Charles W. Dorsey (Helen Martien) Baildon Cove Trappe, MD 21673

Deceased: Mary Taber Dudley passed away in April of 1981. Our sincere sympathy.

28

News: Eleanor Reybaine Isdale is very active in The Herb Society of America which recently presented a beautiful herb garden to the National Arboretum in Washington, DC. She is also an active member of the Twig Organization of United Hospital. She has 11 grandchildren, one of whom is a student at Pine Manor.

Nancy Stevenson Lane writes that her activities haven't been too exciting as she had a new knee replacement late in September. "That took care of any exciting happenings for some time," she says. But she is now driving, swimming, running her house of 41 years, and even raking. She keeps in touch with Polly

Mary Francis Plowden-Wardlaw, '28, and her husband Thomas in Scotland.

Anne Colver Graff, Alice Leeds Hunting, Mary Ault Carter, Mary Francis Plowden-Wardlaw, and Rosamond "Rosie" Foote Brown, and hopes they will send in news of their lives for the Bulletin.

30

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Paul H. Pierce (Nancy Richmond)
223 Marshall Street, RFD 3
Duxbury, MA 02332

Deceased: Virginia Hamilton Todd (Mrs. C. Lee) passed away on December 24, 1980. Sincere condolences are expressed from the College and her class.

News: Gwyneth Farley DePuy and her husband celebrated their 50th anniversary on the island of Nevis with four children and their spouses. They have traveled with the Conservancy of Florida and on the sailing barque "Sea Cloud." They returned north in May to the Thousand Islands after a stop in Rochester to see family and friends.

Marnie Leonard Carter, '28, at White Grass Ranch, WY.

Florence Siegrist Earl and her husband spent 15 days in China in the fall of 1980. They also spent a few days in Hong Kong and in HI. On the island of Kauai they visited Dora Rice Wallis whom Florence had not seen since graduation in 1930! Elmer and Florence spend their summers in North Hero, VT, and they have fond memories of reunion last May (1980).

Mary Sarg Murphy writes that she and her husband, John, still spend their summers on Nantucket, MA. She keeps busy doing portraits in oil or pastel, mostly of children. Last summer she painted four separate portraits, and this summer she has been commissioned to do a group painting of five.

Janet Miller Nelson moved to Perry, GA, from FL last June. She has her own studio and does consulting work with home decorating. Painting is her latest hobby.

31

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Harry R. Esling (Helen Moore)
280 Kercheval Avenue
Grosse Pointe Farms, MI 48236

News: Madolyn Stroup Boudreau journeyed through China for one month early in the year. She traveled with a friend from boarding school days.

Edith Collins Avery and her husband rented an apartment for three weeks in a small town near Interlaken, Switzerland. Edith retired from the National Girls' Clubs of America Board in April, 1980, after having been a member for seven years. She keeps busy at home in a Current Events Club and several other women's groups. They have four grandchildren, and their two married daughters live in the Boston area so they see them frequently. Their third daughter works in interior design in San Francisco. Edith keeps in touch with Frances Jenks, Gail Ripley, and Rosena Bruce Nelson. One of her dearest friends, Louise Beland of Guthrie, OK, died a year ago of cancer. Also, Florence Ferdon Smith of Grand Rapids, MI, died two years ago. Occasionally Edith hears from Elizabeth "Betty" Aigler Foust in PA.

32

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Robert F. Muhlhauser (Ann Danson)
25 Wood Avenue
Glendale, OH 45246

Florence Siegrist Earl and Dora Rice Wallis, both '30, in Dora's hibiscus garden, Kauai, HI.

News: I'm sorry to say that the only news I have for you this issue is about the delightful time my husband and I had in Boca Raton, FL, one afternoon in March, when we attended a Pine Manor gathering there. Mr. and Mrs. James E. Lewis, who are Pine Manor parents, opened their lovely home for us. President Ashby, Beth Steffian, Director of Development, Jane Christopher, Director of Alumnae Relations, and Linda Francis, Assistant Director of Admissions, were there as well as other alumnae and a few parents of undergraduates. After refreshments, Rosemary Ashby spoke and showed slides of the campus. A most interesting and pleasant afternoon!

While in Delray Beach we saw Susan Bent Thoman, '24, who has a lovely winter home there.

I do hope that all of my classmates are seriously considering attending our 50th in May of 1982. I have heard that Katharine Webb Perry and Louise Lykes Ferguson are planning to be there.

33

News: Josephine Odell Hartman writes that she went to Fredericksburg to attend the wedding of her granddaughter, Susan Chaplin, last August. Her mother, Josephine Hartman Chaplin, '55, managed everything with her usual flair. "Our daughter, Lynda K. Hartman, '69, came in from Santa Fe for the occasion. My twin, Lynda Odell Gardner, went with us. Quite a Pine Manor family!!"

Janet Kendall Miller spent the month of February in HI, and recently lunched with Marian Eastwick Sullivan and her husband Marshall. She invites everyone traveling by Ridgeway, SC, to visit her.

34

News: Margaret Ells Dann writes, "In March I saw Suzanne Emerson Wilmot and her husband Noyes in Boca Grande, FL. They were vacationing there at the Gasparilla Inn. Sue is recovering nicely from a recent operation."

"At age 67, I'm still working four days a week in a lamp and shade shop, and I love it," writes Anne Wood Lafean. "My husband is still self-employed and keeps very busy. Our daughter is living in Princeton, NJ, and we drive down to see her and the family when we can. We still enjoy going to Nantucket, MA, in the summertime. Both Bill's mother and my mother died last year, so after fifteen years of taking care of them we are now a bit freer to come and go. Fortunately, we have stayed healthy. I did a lot of lamps and shades for one of our classmates, Mary "Winn" Brown, and enjoyed seeing her again after all these years."

36

News: Sally Johnston Marshall writes, "I wish so much I could have been present when Dorothy McGuire Swope received an honorary degree from Pine Manor! We had a beautiful trip to the Bahamas in March, and traveled east in July to visit our son in Washington, and our daughter in Cape May, NJ. I loved seeing Dorothy when she was here in Omaha this past January. As always, she is a delight to be with as well as to look at!"

37

News: Eleanor Fitz Nagle and her husband, Ed, are the parents of three children. Eleanor has recently retired from her work as an Activities Director in a nursing home in Weston. In her nine years there she planned parties, crafts, programs, wrote newsletters, and organized many other activities for the residents. She visits with Dorothy Fergusson Foland occasionally, and saw Patty Tonnele Wilson a few years ago. She also keeps in touch with Adelaide Hildreth Cleverly and her husband, Dick, and sends everyone her best wishes.

"My husband retired at the end of 1975 following 40 years at Aetna Life and Casualty Company where he was Secretary and the company expert in medical malpractice insurance," writes Shirley Marsh Morgan. "Since then we have been enjoying a month in Naples, FL, every autumn and a spring trip to a different place each year. I keep busy with church and club activities as well as volunteer work."

Marilee Leavitt Beach has another grandson, Carter Mast Beach, who was born on November 28, 1980. Bennett, Marilee's son, writes the legal column for Time Magazine.

Gretchen PenseL LaBahn Nadler's husband, Edwin, died in 1975. In 1978 she married Bob Nadler whom she knew since they were teenagers. Both of her twin daughters are married. Gretchen and her new husband, Bob, have traveled to Mexico, and cruised on the S.S. Mardi Gras out of Miami, FL. Ports of call were Nassau, San Juan, and St. Croix. Gretchen encourages everyone in the class to write their news into the Bulletin!

38

News: In November of 1978, Marjorie J. Mueller had a total hip replacement operation because of arthritis, and is now free of pain. She has displayed her U.S. Military Insigne at the Badger Military Show in Madison, WI, and also at the National Convention of the American Society of Military Insignia Collectors in Dallas, TX. She won trophies at both shows. After the convention she visited Jane Contino Crawford whom she hadn't seen for 42 years. She wrote, "I don't think that the passing of the years has changed either of us very much, except for the better."

39

Class Secretary:

Mrs. William Faymonville (Helen Sullivan)
6 Court of Hidden Bay
Northbrook, IL 60062

News: Elizabeth Brown Warwick writes, "My twin sister, Neatsy Brown Groton, and I seem to have spent our entire lives doing volunteer work . . . church, hospital, school, and community — you name it, we've done it!"

Charlotte Ziesing Brickley writes that she keeps busy with a recently retired husband and three dogs.

Pauline Klotz is still teaching music part-time and plays violin in Baroque groups. She skis as much as possible and is active in Audubon Clubs. She is interested in buying a Pine Manor ring because she lost hers playing football with her nephew. "Are any alumnae interested in selling a Pine Manor ring?"

40

News: Dorothy Hector Rowland writes, "Now I spend my winters in sunny AZ. I have a little condo at Leisure World in Mesa. My summers are spent at my cottage in Detroit Lakes, MN. It's a great life — the best of two worlds!!"

Betty Berry Klotzbach writes, "My two granddaughters, ages 5 and 8, visited us for ten days here at John's Island during the Easter school break. My husband, Hans Peter, is retired now. He was Captain of Germany's largest passenger liners, "The Bremen," and Captain of the "Europa" for ten years. Our permanent residence is Munich, Germany. We moved here in February and expect to spend a month here in November and return for the winter of 1982."

Jessie Whitaker McClure's husband has recently retired, and they are anxiously awaiting the arrival of their third grandchild. Jessie is trying to organize a reunion and says if they can get Ruth Caley Schwiebert to cancel her European trip they may manage the reunion!

Rosalie Ramirez Mitchell and her husband took a Caribbean cruise on the S.S. Norway, the largest ship afloat. Although the accommodations were tremendous, they would have preferred a smaller cruise ship.

Susan Dart McCutcheon has retired after ten years of writing a column. She is currently working on lectures and booklets about turn-of-the-century Chicago architect Howard Van Doren Shaw.

Esther Sillcox Whittemore has done an outstanding job as class secretary for many years now, but she feels it is time to let someone else take over this position. Please contact the Alumnae Office if you would like to take on this enjoyable task.

41

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Bruce M. Steere (Anne Bullivant)
4412 North Versailles
Dallas, TX 75205

Deceased: Jane Tuttle Fuller died on October 10 after a long illness in Centerville, MA.

Margaret Winston Rider, '41, became the Women's Editor of the Florida Times-Union in Jacksonville after having started there as a feature writer in 1978. She rode both the Carter and Reagan planes before the election and won a citation for her story on Nancy Reagan, with whom she worked in Chicago during college days. Margaret also wrote five articles about the presidential debate.

News: Jean Nelson Cochran is still volunteering at the library in Old Saybrook, CT, and finished her job as President of the Garden Club in June. She plays paddle tennis and golf. Her children spent Christmas with John and herself, which is always a joyous occasion. Trips to Montreal and Stuart, FL, filled the rest of the winter.

Jeanne Gehrmann Lischer lives in Davenport, IA, and spends the winter months in Boca Raton. They have seven children and 11 grandchildren, which may be the class record.

Marcia Hobart Howell reports that she and Bill have moved to Vero Beach, FL. Their children are scattered from Utah to Holland. After a trip with Governor Rhodes to China, her husband Bill is promising to take Marcia. She, as all of us, is really involved with children and "grands" which is really a joy. Marcia has five of the latter. We are a prolific class in the generation department!

Ruth Horton Mitchell and Hoadley's third son was married in June. Their fourth son is in college in CA, and they have seven grandchildren, including twin boys!

Madeleine Miller Hogan composes music. In November, St. Luke's Church in Forest Hills, NY, sang her Missa Brevis.

Katherine (Kay) Tod Johnstone and David have four grandchildren. Liberation has meant concentrating on her sculpture. She has won four local awards for her recent work, including the Anne Hyatt Huntington Award. She is also president of the Stonington Community Center and a board member of the Mystic Art Association.

Nancy Hegeman Stephens and her husband became grandparents again on February 19, 1981, with the birth of Christian Bennett White Stephens to their oldest son Page and his wife Judy.

Catherine Connell Winship and her husband are still living at their seaside home overlooking Penobscot Bay. Their daughter, Katie, has received a sizeable grant from the Department of Energy to develop and build a passive solar energy unit using her ceramic knowledge. They gave their 25 foot sloop to their son, Tim, and his wife, and their three boys (8, 10, 12).

Remember that the fund raising season is in full swing at PMC. Any donation you can make is greatly appreciated. Thank you for your support!

42

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Ralph Smith-Johannsen
(Elizabeth Davidson)
405 Mill River Road
Oyster Bay, NY 11771

News: Jessie Tobias McKee writes that both she and Tom retired in February and moved to their beautiful log house in the NC mountains. Their son, Randy, was married in March, and their youngest son, Tommy, graduated from the University of the South in May and plans to go on to law school at the University of Georgia in the fall.

From Nancy Erskine Hussey: "When George retired, we moved his furnishings from Niles, MI, to a wonderful chalet type house overlooking Greylock in Williamstown, MA. We are there during the spring and fall, spend summers on Long Island, and our winters in a little townhouse at Jonathan's Landing in Jupiter, FL. We have seven children between us — all married but one. We have four granddaughters and another baby due in July. George plays golf and I do the gardening. I am still active in the sustaining group of the Jr. League. It is a busy and satisfying period in our lives as we count our many blessings."

"After five years in FL as a widow, I have married James McConnell and moved to Toronto," writes Ann Johnson McConnell. "We sold the John's Island house and though Jim has a condominium in Florida, I am so enchanted with Toronto that I spent only one week in the south this winter. I have room for everyone to visit — come see me!!"

43

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Louis B. Pieper (Carol Hackett)
2004 Ruxton Road
Ruxton, MD 21204

Deceased: Caroline Francklyn Clark (Mrs. Samuel Adams Clark) passed away on January 30, 1981, in her home in Bernardsville, NJ, after a long illness. We send our sincere condolences to her family.

Sarah Hupp Purnell (Mrs. Charles G. Purnell), died March 24, 1981, in her home. She was active in both the Dallas Jr. League and the Dallas Garden Club. The College expresses its deepest sympathy to Sarah's husband and family.

News: Sibyl Dougherty Waterman writes, "I have been in touch with Gloria Drumm Egeler and Mary Jane 'Majie' Alford Failey, and we returned to Dana Hall for our 40th reunion on May 22. My activities include volunteer work for the Putnam Museum and plans for a trip to Europe in September. Our son, Dana III, is married and has three children. He is a lawyer with the firm of Lane & Waterman with his father and 20 others. Our daughter Sibyl is also married to a lawyer and has two girls. Sally works for C.G. Sloan Co., Art Appraisers & Auctioneers in Washington, DC, and our youngest daughter, Glenna, finished her junior year at Dartmouth."

Ellen Davis Parsons writes, "In December of 1980, Bill and I spent a lovely day in NY at a small reunion at the home of Mary Morgan Hamilton and her husband Pete. Cornelia Brady Meili was visiting the Hamiltons en route to Switzerland, and we all enjoyed the reunion very much. It has been many years since all of us had been together."

Dottie Dickens Mestier writes that after having lived in Boston, NY, Syracuse, and Detroit for the first half of her married life, they have called her native Milwaukee "home" since 1962. They have four daughters, and on September 19, 1980, Dottie and Joe became grandparents for the first time. Congratulations to you both!

Marian Coons Lacy writes that in late September, 1980, she and her husband went on a nine day photography safari to Kenya where they visited four national parks plus a ranch run by an American. Their youngest daughter will graduate from Emory University in June. Marian and Bill enjoy the company of their two grandchildren, Jennifer, 5, and Travis, 1.

Carol Rippere Ludwig and her husband celebrated their 37th wedding anniversary recently. Carol enjoys needlework, gardening, church work, and bridge.

Cornelia Brady Meili visited NY in December and saw Mary Morgan Hamilton and Ellen Davis Parsons and their husbands. Cornelia's husband died in 1974 and she has been working at the Rotary International Secretariat in Zurich. She lives just outside of Zurich with her youngest child, Bonnie. Her oldest son, Peter, and his wife live in Lisbon, Portugal; her second son, Eric, manages a milk sheep farm in the Gotzental near Luzern, and her oldest daughter lives in London where she is a purser for Pan Am.

As for yours truly, my daughter is now working in the world-renowned Shock Trauma here in Baltimore. Last May, before she started working there, we took a two week vacation driving in the southwest part of England. This past March, I took a trip to Israel and the Holy Land with a group from my church and thoroughly enjoyed it.

Minerva Rogers Mason, '45, and her husband, Raymond, traveled around the world last March with former President and First Lady, Gerald and Betty Ford. The trip began in Ireland where the Fords were guests of the Masons at their castle in Ballynahinch. The tour took the four of them, plus an entourage of Secret Service agents and other companions, from Ireland to Paris, France, Germany, Oman on the Arabian peninsula, Indonesia, Hong Kong, Peking, and Japan.

44

Class Secretary:

Mrs. James D. Tilford, Jr. (Emily Meyer)
266 Southland Road
Palm Beach, FL 33480

News: Nancy Brecker Leeds is still living in King's Point, NY. Since her father died three and a half years ago, she has been running the Roseland Ballroom. She finds it to be a real challenge and lots of fun. It has opened up many new vistas to her, such as dealing with labor unions. She still writes songs and does sculpture. She and Dick and the children vacationed in Vail, CO, for a week of skiing.

Barbara Winslow Miller and her husband are enjoying living in FL, and they went on a Caribbean cruise in mid April. She "enjoyed the lovely reception at the beautiful Boca Raton home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lewis on March 3. It was great to see President Rosemary Ashby and Jane Christopher again. We were all impressed with the slides of Pine Manor today and proud of our college."

Janet Johnson Hewes' oldest son, Bob, was married to Nancy Kelley on September 27, 1980, in the chapel of Middlebury College.

The Tilfords look forward to a peaceful summer at home after a hectic winter season. Let me hear from you!

45

Deceased: Mary Lydon Welch passed away on April 22, 1981. Mary was a past president of Pine Manor's Alumnae Association, a class agent for three years, and was a reunion weekend chairman in 1966. She was a volunteer for the Home for Little Wanderers and was also active in the Friends of Sidney Farber Cancer Institute. The College expresses its deepest sympathy to Mary's husband, John, and her four children.

News: Dorothy Felber MacLellan has been doing freelance interior design work for the past seven years and finds it very stimulating and rewarding. She also keeps up her golf game. Ken is busy with his commercial real estate business in Phoenix, and they feel fortunate to have both their children living in the area. Susie (31) is an executive in the retail business, and Doug (25) is finishing college.

46

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Wiley S. Obenshain (Marilyn Murphy)
3055 E. Pine Valley Road, NW
Atlanta, GA 30305

News: Jean McClure Hoermann writes that she is a secretary in a one-man advertising sales office for a laboratory equipment magazine. The variety of work is exciting and the atmosphere is delightful. Her office is in a home which is filled with people of all ages and a variety of animals. "I'm not making a million," she says, "just making an awful lot of friends jealous."

Sally Keyes Hermann and her husband, Fred, have had two weddings in their family. Their oldest son married the daughter of some good friends and they live in Atlanta, GA. Another son works with Fred in the family business. Two teenage daughters live at home and keep things hopping. Sally was selected as a St. Louis Woman of Achievement last year for her work in starting the Cancer Information Center which has now opened three additional centers in other states. In the fall of 1980, Sally and Fred took a cruise to the Greek Islands, Egypt, Israel, and Turkey. They had a fabulous time and consider the trip a highlight in their travels.

Margaret Boyd Perdue is actively involved as trustee in the campaign to build a new art museum in Atlanta.

Elizabeth "Lina" Kimball Wanders travels to Atlanta once a year with her husband on business, so Margaret Boyd Perdue is looking forward to their spending the night with her.

47

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Eugene A. Bernardin, Jr. (Carolyn Riggs)
22 Reservation Road
Andover, MA 01810

Deceased: Margaret Callejas Mahnken (Mrs. Chandler Mahnken) passed away in 1978. Sincere condolences are expressed to her husband from the College and her classmates.

News: Mary Lu Stephenson Schaller writes that her husband is an Episcopal clergyman with a church in Littleton and one in North Woodstock, NH. Their son David (22), is studying Spanish in Guatemala and graduated from Dartmouth in June, 1981. Their daughter Susan is now Mrs. Theodore Burlock. Mary Lu is working in the Development Office of the White Mountain School (formerly St. Mary's-in-the-Mountains) in Littleton — a co-educational boarding school.

Julia Cates Madison writes that her children are growing: Margaret (21) recently completed her junior year at Duke University, and William III (17) just graduated from high school. Julia is remodeling their home and is active in a local art group, the symphony guild, and the Heart Association. With the children grown, she is painting to her heart's content.

I hope that all of you will send news of your summer activities and plans for the fall for the next issue of the Bulletin.

49

News: Deweenta Gray Bones writes, "In December of 1980 we sold two plane loads of cattle to the country of Chile. Walt and I went right along with the 350 head on the first plane — a 747. It was most interesting to follow the cattle right out to the ranches where they will be, and also to tour some of the country. We hope to do more business with the people there and cultivate the friendships we have begun."

Ann Carter Marsh is still working in the real estate business. Her daughter Kate (Katherine Marsh Lewis, '72) gave birth to a son recently. At a shower for her, Ann saw Peggy Albaugh Croke, '72.

Judith DiPaolo Mettler is still pursuing a successful career as a location scout for the television industry in metropolitan NY. Her oldest daughter, Melissa, is living and working in Washington, DC; Alison was married last May and was due this past May; Elizabeth is a sophomore at Boston College, and her son, Tony, is working with his father and going to college part-time. Judy had an operation last July for lung cancer and went through a series of chemotherapy treatments, which were followed with radiation treatments. She reports that all is going well.

50

News: Patsy Pai Loo spent Christmas in the US for a family reunion with her husband, David, and their sons, Mark and Carl. Mark attends Cornell Medical School and Carl attends Oxford University in England. Carl will work as a trainee for Morgan Stanley in NYC. Patsy's husband is manager of the world famous Tai Ping Carpet Company in Hong Kong. Patsy remembers Anne Morningstar Huberth, '49, and Sally Sweet with great affection.

Judith Landauer McLaughlin's husband, David, was inaugurated as 14th President of Dartmouth College on June 28, 1981. The McLaughlin family moved to Hanover in August. Pine Manor President, Rosemary Ashby, was one of twelve college presidents who attended the inaugural festivities. Judith McLaughlin is a member of the class of 1952.

51

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Lewis S. Phillips (Nancy Sheldon)
75 Scarlett Oak Drive
Doylestown, PA 18901

News: I really love being the Class Secretary when I get all the mail I received this last time. It's such fun hearing from long-ago friends.

I had a wonderful letter from Barbara Arnheim Lieber. They have moved across town where they don't have so much property upkeep. Their address is now 777 Sheridan Road, Highland Park, IL 60035. Mike, their youngest, is now at Trinity College and even though the children visit often, Barbara is free to travel with Frank, sometimes to the Orient. Barbara's favorite project is being chairman of a Volunteer Lecture Corp for Lyric Opera in Chicago. She lectures to school children before they attend the opera, to civic organizations, in libraries and senior citizen centers. In June the Liebers had two graduations. Their eldest son graduated from medical school and their daughter from the University of Michigan.

Joanna Mangan Kennard moved to Amelia Island Plantation three years ago. Her husband, Samuel, retired and they moved from Atlanta to 3056 Club Villas, Fernandina Beach, FL 32034. Joanna still plays tennis but has ended her tournament competition. They have bought a beautiful 34 foot sailboat in which they cruise the Inland Waterway and the overnight anchorages, and enjoy the unlimited horizons at sunset and dawn. While they lived in Atlanta, they attended Emory University and learned Spanish. Now her husband is studying celestial navigation and Joanna reads and records the sextant.

Mary (Molly) McLean Markle lives quite near and, of course, we never see each other — just once at a Pine Manor night in Philadelphia. And now her daughter Mary is at Pine Manor! Molly and Jack went up for the Father's Day Weekend and Molly raves about the College. To quote her, "The dorms are beautiful, the rooms bright and spacious, and the campus is gorgeous." Besides Mary (20), Molly said that Ellen (28) is in Bonaire Netherland Antilles; Jack III (25) is in Denver, CO; Pat (23) is in Paoli, PA; and Steve (21) is at S.M.U. in Dallas, TX.

I have heard from my roommate Paule de Montfort Ouvry, '52. Her son Bernard (21) is visiting the US this spring and is now the same age as Paule was when she came to America. He will spend a little time with us but mainly will be touring the whole country.

Janet Archambo McMillan's son, Howard III, graduated from Brown University on June 1. Their son Robert is a freshman at Connecticut College, and daughter Tammi graduated from Connecticut College in 1979 and is working in NYC on a management training program with an international grain company, Gamac Inc.

Joan Meloy Schoenberger writes "Thirtieth reunion — that's incredible! I can't believe 30 years have rolled by since I made the scene at Pine Manor. However, I do have reminders — I have two grown sons attending Ohio State University; the oldest is in his first year at the school of law, and the youngest is in the freshman class of engineering."

52

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Charles Morrison (Frances Hall)
106 Windsor Road
Needham, MA 02192

News: Nancy Bishop Taylor has two married daughters and a third daughter at Clemson College in SC. She is on the Board of the Buckner Foundation, a home for unwed mothers in Jacksonville. Her husband is a lawyer who specializes in shopping center leasing.

Paula Whiting Martin writes, "All six of us spent the last week in March in sunny FL with beautiful weather every day. We spent two days at Disney World and visited Sea World and other sights. News of our four children: our older son is back on our apple farm full-time after graduating from the university; Kathryn works for a consulting firm in Lexington and our two younger ones are still in high school."

Here's some very exciting news about Judy Landauer McLaughlin's husband, Dave. He has been elected the new president of Dartmouth College. Our congratulations to them both! Judy writes, "Busy times will be ahead for the McLaughlin family. Our oldest son, Bill, graduated in June from the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration. In July he will be marrying a classmate from Tuck, Martha Symmes from Houston, TX. Susan is graduating from Dartmouth in June, and Jay, our youngest, will graduate from Phillips Andover and attend Dartmouth in September. We are planning to move our household to Hanover in early August. It has been heart warming to hear from classmates Beth LaMontagne Schalles and Frannie Hall Morrison and to know that our paths will cross many times in the future." Do we have any other "first ladies" in our class?

Ann Murray Logan writes, "I am married and have two boys, ages 15 and 19. My husband owns and manages four women's clothing stores in NH. I am on the Amherst School Board and the NH State School Board representing Amherst and other neighboring towns. I enjoy gardening and tennis, and we enjoy our boat which we have at Lake Winnepesaukee. I would love to see anyone who gets up this way."

Mary Lee Matheson Larsen is keeping busy renovating her third house for fun and profit. She has started advising others in Bronxville to do it under the name of "Consultation Only." Her daughter, Brooke, was in the Class of 1980 at Pine Manor and is now at the NY School of Interior Design. Sounds like Lee might have a partner soon!

"We're still very much into the southern California lifestyle — golf, sun, etc.," writes Anne Peelor Clarkin. Her son, Rowan, is working as an accountant with the Carmel Valley Ranch, and David is working and going to school part-time.

Sandra Bradley-Clark had been concentrating on her stone sculpture which was exhibited at Wheelock College during February, 1981, and at the Lincoln Library in the Spring of 1981. She also enrolled in the Landscape Design Program at Radcliffe.

Lydia Ahern Moore's husband, John, is Director of Columbia University Press. Their two oldest are at Princeton University, their son just graduated from high school, and their other two daughters will enter 11th and 10th grades, respectively. Lydia is busy with the PMC Club of Fairfield County, the PTA, and Jr. League.

54

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Sally Anderson (Sally Bjork)
735 Mayview Avenue
Palo Alto, CA 94303

News: Carol Pike Robertson, mother of Cathy Crockett, '80, does not know how she would have survived if Carol Kunz Ladner had not taken her in for two months during Cathy's operation last summer. "Cathy is coming along, but it is a very slow process. She is an inspiration to everyone, and I am proud to be her mother."

Suzanne Gavrill Mason, '55, is Vice President of her own company in New York City which produces computer graphics for the television industry. She was formerly a television producer in advertising, and has been a sales representative with Xerox Corporation in New York. She began her career with Alfred A. Knopf publishers in that city.

55

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Richard P. Farley (Drusilla Flather)
Box 356
Hamilton, MA 01936

News: Josephine "Joady" Hartman Chaplin has gone back to Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg to get her degree in Studio Arts. She goes at night since she's still working full time as Personnel Assistant at Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg. She may enter into Art Therapy which is a relatively new field. Joady's daughter, Susan, was married last August.

Beverly Beach Campbell writes, "The children are growing up too fast. Robin is at Denison University and loves it; Tom is at Northeastern getting his engineering degree; Jim is in the landscaping business and hopes to start his own; Amy is off to a private school in the fall, so Don and I will be by ourselves. I won the most improved award in golf last year, and we went on an isle hopping tour and took time to find ourselves a condo in FL. With three houses, I shall be busy!"

Jeanne Colket Connell writes, "In June of 1980 we moved into a new home in the mountains of PA where we will spend the summer and fall. The whole family was excited about the move. Andrew (9) can't wait to go out and cut his own Christmas tree; Cameron (21) is finishing her third year at Ohio Wesleyan, and Lee (20) graduated from PM. I have a feeling there won't be many empty beds this summer."

Linda Gerow Lankford writes, "Our family is beginning to spread out. Ken (23) is living in CA and working as a kindergarten teacher; Amy (21) is living in CT and is an assembler and repairer working through a microscope; Jessica (14) still wants to be a veterinarian; Andy (11) wants to be an actor, and he began tap dancing lessons and has acted in several plays. He also wants to become a dungeon master (a fantasy game — Dungeons & Dragons). Larry is still at IBM, 21 years altogether, and I'm an electronic technician at N.B.I. (they make word processors)."

Suzanne Gavrill Mason is married and has a son (12) who enters seventh grade at Fieldston School in NYC next fall.

Roberta Bradbury Fuller writes, "I have been appointed administrative assistant to the Vice Chairman at Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. Unfortunately, our only son, John, was killed in an automobile accident in March of 1979 while on vacation during his freshman year of college. His friend, who was driving the car, was also killed. Needless to say, the past year has been a most difficult one for our family. Don and I have become involved with our local chapter of Compassionate Friends, a group for parents who have lost a child either by illness or accident. We have found great solace in being able to visit with other parents who have experienced this kind of tragedy and I strongly recommend this group to anyone who has had to go through this kind of an experience. There are chapters in many cities in the U S and in England. Our daughter, Nancy, has been accepted at Tufts University and is looking toward a career in medicine." Pine Manor extends its deepest sympathy to the Fullers.

Your class secretary's daughter was one of the 20 women chosen to attend the National Lacrosse finals.

56

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Dina Moore Mills (Dina Moore)
The Barclay House, #707
1200 Marlton Pike
Cherry Hill, NJ 08034

News: Susan Taipale Bottoms and her husband, Ken, are building a new home. Both of their children will be in college next fall; Jeff (19) just completed his freshman year at the University of Colorado, and Chris (17) has just been accepted in C.U. Business School for September.

Susan Donald Michalski is married to a painting conservator. They have three children, ages 18, 15, and 13. Susan works in a local emergency room and doctor's office as an Emergency Medical Technician nurse. She also works on the ambulance squad and is a certified ski instructor and runs a program for handicapped skiers. She coordinates the Alpine division for the Massachusetts Special Olympics winter games.

Judith Nims Hunt writes that she has been made head of Princeton Schools. Her son, Jay, is a junior at Amherst College and knows Terry McCarthy Horton's son who is also in the junior class. Chris is a sophomore at Dartmouth. Jarvis and Judy divide what free time they have between their home in Fitchburg and their home at the Cape. She saw Nancy Lowe Crocker and Alvah at their daughter's wedding. Nancy plays tennis and sails.

Barbara Viner Levine has become active in the past two years as an actress and commercial performer in radio, TV, film, and theatre. In the movie Starting Over with Burt Reynolds and Jill Clayburgh, Barbara played Jill's double. She has four children; her oldest is 20 and will move to San Francisco soon. Her other daughter is an art major at Endicott and her son is living out west.

Joanne Silva McCarty says that she and her husband, John, recently returned from three weeks in Saba, N.A., in the Caribbean. She also traveled to Anguilla, B.W.I. Joanne is active with the Salvation Army, teaches a seventh grade CCD (religious education) class, AAUW (University Women), Clinton Art Society, and plays tennis. She has three children, ages 16, 14, and 4.

Grace Jahnce Newburger has seven children. Her husband, Ken, is President of Carrson and Black of New Orleans. Grace notes that the World's Fair will be in New Orleans in 1984 and hopes that all her classmates who go will contact her.

57

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Brooks Whitfield (Deanne Deaton)
289 Kings Mountain Road
Woodside, CA 94062

News: Jane Milliken Persen writes, "I am working on a documentary film on scavenging, and am moving back to CT after four marvelous years in NYC. I see Susan Kinney Dowling often, and hear about her work at WGBH in avant-garde dance video."

Beverly Brown Downer writes that she loves living in central OR; it has a beautiful environment and many outdoor activities!

58

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Thomas G. Varbedian
(Marilynn Mardigian)
1860 Rathmor Road
Bloomfield Hills, MI 48013

News: In February, Barbara Hanson Karahadian received a Certificate of Proficiency from the Lifetime Career Schools in California for Flower Arranging and Floristry. Congratulations!

Sandra Smith Sullivan writes that she met

Marilynn Mardigian Varbedian, '58, won her race for a seat on the City Commission for Bloomfield Hills, MI. She and the other female Commission members have just published the first newsletter for Bloomfield Hills residents, helping to keep them informed on city activities. "I have never done anything as exciting as this!" she says.

Jeri Fox Stone and Linda Sadlier Van Lokeren in NYC this past fall. "Both of them are super." She sees Bonnie Simmen Lisle as they both have boys at the same school (Providence Country Day) and are working at the school's annual flea market.

Sarah Palmer Strout writes, "I am now teaching psychology and community health courses at two local colleges. I am still active in theater work and have continued to work in the field of suicide prevention and crisis intervention. Douglas, my oldest boy, is a senior at VA Technical, majoring in architecture, who will study in Europe this summer. Stephen, my younger son, is a high school junior. He is planning to work with NASA in space aeronautics this summer. I enjoy reading the news of my fellow classmates, and someday I am going to see the new campus!"

Elaine Baker MacKay writes from P.R. that her son Bob's college experience rekindled her own at PMC! While visiting colleges, they ran into Elaine's roommate, Marcia Mabie Gibson, with her daughters at Southern Methodist University. This past Christmas, Elaine heard from her second PM roommate, Mabel Harris Vogel, whose nephew had been Bob MacKay's roommate freshman year. Elaine's busy schedule includes teaching third grade at an English language private preparatory school, completing her thesis for a master's degree in Educational Administration, working with the "Dad's Club" of the school, serving as President of her condominium, knitting sweaters for her son, and needlepointing.

Martha (Martye) Cooke Marsh keeps busy as wife and mother, with two boys, ages 8 and 5, who are active in sports and school activities. She would love to hear from anyone who may be passing through Atlanta, GA.

Marilynn Mardigian Varbedian was one of five candidates for the Bloomfield Hills, MI, City Commission in the April, 1981, election. Three incumbents and two newcomers (including yours truly) were vying for three seats. It was quite a thrill to learn that I had won with the second highest number of votes unseating the Mayor!

59

Class Secretary:

Mrs. F. James Hodges, Jr. (Sheila Hertslet)
110 Sandy Point Avenue
Portsmouth, RI 02871

News: Diane Dixon Lipsenthal has two grandchildren! Her daughter, Melissa, and her husband, Paul Sprague, have moved near Diane's home in Centerport, NY, so she sees her grandson and granddaughter often. Diane's son, Todd (20) is preparing to join the Air Force and her son, Philip (13), is active in all sports, especially soccer and lacrosse. Diane's husband, Bob, spends his spare time coaching soccer and devoting his talent to their church.

Susan Meadows Pfluger writes, "After eight years of widowhood, last May I married rancher Robert Pfluger. My daughter, Claire, and I had a reunion last spring in Atlanta with Margaret 'Bootsie' Allen Holland and her family. It was like it hadn't really been 20 years at all. They are all fine and happy."

60

Class Secretary:

Barbara M. Brown
773 N. Prospect Avenue, Apt. 608
Milwaukee, WI 53202

News: Susan Ellis Van Etten writes, "I graduated from Wellesley College in May as a Wellesley College scholar with a B.A. degree in art history. I will continue to do picture research for textbooks, and I spent January of 1981 in Italy taking a course. Derek, Jr., is a junior at Hawthorne College and he has a private pilot's license. Ashley is a freshman at Kenyon College. Derek, Sr., is a senior V.P. at AWG Dewar, Inc."

Carolyn Blake Evans is back in school working toward a master's degree in botany/horticulture. She has three children, ages 14 to 10, and wants to know about Louisa Lipp Nunan, Deborah Telfer Hulbert, and Deborah Foltz Bray, '61.

Jerry McFaddin Woodfin's sons go to the Salisbury School in CT where her husband is on the board of trustees, and to Indian Mountain School in Lakeville, CT, where she is on the board of trustees. They have a summer home in Pawling, NY, and are world travelers.

Mary Schoentgen Shanley writes, "I am working part-time as a medical secretary, and I really enjoy it. John is a sophomore in high school and is already gearing up for the college scene and a potential future in law. Kate is a fifth grader and still very much interested in horses, swimming, and gymnastics. Dave is with Bank of America in San Francisco and likes the challenge of the municipal bond market."

Cecile Timolat McCaffery writes, "I enjoy the Bulletin very much. I am happily married to Daniel McCaffery and we love our 18th century brick home and always seem to be busy. I send my regards to Mme. Gegerias. I think of her every time I go to NY."

Carole Zinick Zorfias writes, "Lauren (17) is ready for college; Brad (15) is going into high school; Harvey is an executive at a commodities company, ACLI, and I am now employed full time manufacturing and selling cosmetics."

Kate Mahaffey Esterline writes that she has five children: Tom, Jr. (16), Dan (15), Liz (13), Sarah (11), and Susanna, just one year. She is active in Girl Scouts, both at a troop and council level.

Judy Blackmar Jahries is working as the Director of Summit Youth Employment Service. Her oldest, Sarah, is applying to colleges but hopes to be an AFS student in Europe first. Steve, Peter and Emily are busy with school and a myriad of activities.

Marcia B. Hall is based in Martha's Vineyard during the summer and in a Boston suburb in the winter. For the last 12 years she has been Chief-of-Staff of a private home and is involved in a lot of entertaining. She travels to Europe and around the country for both business and pleasure.

Diane Perloth Levine writes, "Although I received my CT real estate license a few years ago, I've been waiting until the children were older before I actually went into real estate. They are now 9 and 13. I recently joined Realty World — Haffner Realty in Norwalk."

Barbara Loffland Middleton writes that she has turned 40, has become a part-time rancher, and is still chasing two busy daughters, ages 8 and 13. All is well.

Kathy Brennan Lee writes, "Denny and I are happily living in Brookfield, WI. Den is a partner in a local real estate firm of which I am a salesperson. Mike is a senior and will take off next fall to pursue his first love in life: skiing; Becky is a sophomore and works part-time in our city's library; John and Shan are in fourth and second grade and are involved in the usual sports."

Ruth Adams Linsmith is busy with her three children — Stewart (15), Ellie (12), and Scott (10) — and their various activities. She cooks lunch daily at her children's school for 450 students, thus enjoying the same vacation schedule. She is active in church activities and as a cub scout den leader. Her husband, Doug, works for a local direct-mail service. She enjoys part of each summer in Leland, MI, but plans a trip to RI this summer and hopefully a stop at PM on their way East.

Rosamond Woodfield Larr writes, "After living in England and Lebanon, we returned to the US to live in Scarsdale, NY. From there we moved across the county to the water, Rye, and we have been here a record breaking nine years. Peter and I have three children: Alexia (15), Diana (13), and David (12). Peter is with the Chase Manhattan Bank and is presently head of their commodity group. I am a homemaker and very involved in my children's schools. I have served as P.T.O. President at the elementary level and will be President of the Middle and High School next year."

Louisa Lipp Nunan was a candidate for selectman in Biddeford, ME. We haven't heard the results yet . . .

61

Class Secretary:

Judith R. Brigham
2120 Dufour Avenue, #8
Redondo Beach, CA 90278

News: Ann Longstreth Hughes writes, "After almost five years of continuous work, we have almost finished restoring our large 1816 house — one room and one staircase to go! We are taking two super breaks: one to the Caribbean and one to Wyoming. The kids grow so fast; they are now 15 and 12 — time flies!"

Suzanne Tweddell Baker writes, "I have added girl scout leader to my list of activities this year. I continue to work at our community mental health center and in various church activities. Our daughter, Kim (9), is very active in figure skating."

Mary "Mimi" Foster Geddes writes that she is Corporate Communications Director for Grubb & Ellis Co., a diversified real estate services company with offices in six western states. "When I'm not traveling for the company, I am at home in Oakland, CA, with my husband, Don, sailing on the weekends."

Alice Low Ellsworth writes, "I'll be moving to England to start over again as an artist-designer."

France de Sugny Bark writes, "My husband, Dennis, and I and our three sons, Dwight (15), Matthew and Samuel (12), are living an active and wonderful life on the Stanford University campus. Most of our time is spent in activities related to family and school."

Mary Eckel Endacott writes, "After breaking my leg skiing while a freshman at PM, I am skiing again with my husband and four children. My husband, Dick, is an attorney in Lincoln, NE. We live on a cattle ranch 15 miles west of Lincoln. Our oldest son, Rick, will be attending Colorado College next fall. Our second son, Kent, is a sophomore and very active in sports. The family is complete with our twin daughters, Karen and Laura — very active 12 year olds.

I received an article written by Helena Chen Law about how eight years ago God led Helena to an exciting adventure when she made a commitment to give $20 a month toward broadcasting by radio into Mainland China. She also needed money to support her parents. Helena began to grow beansprouts; they were greatly needed and not available in the local markets. She sold them to a produce buyer at a national supermarket, and soon the order increased from 100 to 400 pounds per week. The business has grown and they now carry over 65 items and have a complete line of Oriental food. They have realized a profit and have been able to send money to her parents and other ministries. She hopes to write a book about her earning money for God's work. Helena has four children: Jeannette (13), Anne (12), John Hugh (6), and Wesley (3).

Bonnie Folbre Meador is now a sustainer in the Jr. League. Her daughter, Lisa, is now 4 and Bobby is 11. Her husband, Joe, is an attorney specializing in civil defense cases.

62

Class Secretary:

Mrs. James Corcoran (Jean Larson)
700 Canterbury Hill
San Antonio, TX 78209

News: Mary Austin Lowery is the Area Coordinator for Central OH for the National Cardiovascular physical fitness program called Aerobic Dancing, Inc. Besides coordinating the program, she also teaches some of the 1500 local students who are members. Mary's husband is a thoracic and general surgeon at Ohio State University. They have two children, a boy in the sixth grade and a girl in the fifth, both redheads.

Nancy Anderson McKeever and her husband and family moved from Milwaukee to Denver recently where her husband, Michael, became General Agent for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company. Nancy and Mike have three children, and Nancy has worked at the children's schools. They love Denver!

63

Class Secretary:

Barbara Phelps
P.O. Box 266
Hansen, ID 83334

Engaged: Joan Van Diepen to William Parker Hartl, a graduate of Boston University. Joan is a sales executive for the International Investor Company in NY and her fiancé is a director of financial communications of Ashland Oil, Inc.

News: Lois Rome Kunian writes from 308 Marlboro St., Boston, that the "last two years have brought a decided career change. Now, with two partners, I own Modern Gourmet Boston, consisting of a haute cuisine French restaurant, take-out gourmet shop, catering service, and cooking school! David is 11 and Andrew is 9, and they are both at Dexter School in Brookline. Stephen continues to ply his legal trade in Boston, and in short, life is good to all of us."

Susan Scurich writes that she is well into her fourteenth year of teaching. She is living and working in San Francisco and just loves it!

Nancy Davenport Missett writes from NYC (115 E. 67th St.) that she is still pursuing her theatre interests even after her recent marriage to Joseph V. Missett III. She is also active in The Boy's Club of NY, American Cancer Society, and the NY Jr. League. Her son, Henry, is now 11 and Samantha is 8.

Wendy Webster Keleher has been living in Duxbury, MA (P.O. 262, Snug Harbor) for 11 years. Several years ago they bought an old boathouse that sits in the mouth of a river and a bay. After much "gnashing and gnarling of teeth," the boathouse is completely renovated. Her oldest will enter college in the fall; their middle daughter is a sophomore at Dana Hall, and their youngest is in sixth grade. Also, Terry and Wendy just returned from a trip to Paris! Terry joins Wendy in sending old Grantland friends their best love. They saw Anne Harvey Howell last summer, and she occasionally visits with Suzanne McWilliam Oberlin.

Rosalind Childs Fogg writes, "I love it in NH. Grace (3) is doing well in swimming and gymnastics, and Russell (1), is running to keep up with his sister!"

Mary Allen Cox writes, "I have been divorced since December and am now working on my TX certification so I can teach math in junior high school. The Service League of which I am a member is applying to be a Jr. League, so I stay busy with that as well as Corinne Bronfman, '66, a professional photographer, recently exhibited a collection of her photographs at the Ben Shahn Gallery at William Paterson College in Wayne, NJ. Along with her photography, she is also taking a course in economics at New York University and feels that math and business courses are a necessity for today's young women. Corinne's work examines the interaction of words and images.

substitute teaching and going to school. Cathy (7) is a first grader and just delightful."

You'd better rush a letter to Bettina Brown Irvine quickly. She's leaving for Tokyo for three years! They will stay in a hotel for the first two months which she is not looking forward to ("a lot of fun with a one year old"). Write to her NYC address (17 East 89th St., 10028), and she says the mail will be forwarded.

Connie Camp Moore is also on the move — on marketing trips with her husband, Ron. He is a national sales and marketing manager so he does a lot of traveling. Connie joins him for at least one trip each year. Last season it was to Montreal, and the year before to New Orleans. When they aren't traveling, they're busy restoring their old colonial home as well as bringing up Ron's two children (ages 10 and 12). Connie is also working full-time as a medical sales representative with Mead Johnson Company.

My last letter came from Pamela Sibley Hughes (4524 Magnolia, Bellaire, TX). She writes that after a year and a half of remodeling, they have finally moved back into their home. Besides the moving she has also been busy with the Jr. League's Children's Theatre and is on the P.T.O. Board at Angus' Elementary School. Pat and Pam are actively involved in a volunteer park group to rebuild and update the park's play equipment in Bellaire, and also work with the youth soccer association. She plays on a women's tennis team that competes in the Houston area and they both play on a mixed doubles league during the rest of their spare time. Pam has also been in touch with Nancy Niedringhaus Bennett — she called on her way to Australia while at the Houston airport.

Thanks so much for keeping in touch. We all love to hear what each one of you is doing. And it won't be long before we'll be heading back for our 20th reunion!

64

News: Fusako Takemasa Ishibashi works for the Office of Cultural Exchange, US Embassy, Tokyo. She has two small sons and she assists PM by interviewing applicants from Japan. Sako coordinated the schedule for President Ashby and her husband on their recent trip to Japan.

Courtney Cheney Lawrence has begun a small business named "Courtney's Collectibles." She carries designer costume jewelry and other accessories such as frames, belts, headbands, and barrettes. "I'm really enjoying it and learning a lot about business and finance," she writes. She also stays busy with her two sons, ages 11 and 6, and does a lot of volunteer work with medical and church boards and the Jr. League.

66

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Charles E. Thwaite (Elizabeth Rumford)
341 Pine Forest Road, NE
Atlanta, GA 30342

Born: Michael Ewing Broderick, Jr., born on January 21, 1981, is the son of Michael and Martha Abrams Broderick. Marty writes, "This little guy came as quite a surprise. We got him with one day's notice when he was four days old! We are delighted!"

News: Lynn Whittemore Davis writes, "We're loving our new home and environment in CO. We're skiing, camping, hunting, and fishing. The kids are Julie (12), Janet (10), and Jeff (8). The girls enjoy horseback riding and guitar, and Jeff loves anything to do with sports."

Priscilla Cook Cain writes, "Aloha! This is my civic duty year. I tutor at the public school, run a rummage sale for the pre-school, and do bookkeeping for Jim's real estate company. With two children it doesn't leave a lot of time for snorkeling, but we manage to keep our tans!"

Clare O'Keeffe is working in Charleston, SC, as manager of Peoples Office Building, the largest building in downtown Charleston. She also owns her own real estate company, O'Keeffe Realty.

Ann "Brooksie" Gilliland Roberts writes, "I have two children, Christie (13), and Burton (11). I do bookkeeping and secretarial jobs for my father and have been writing for the Dallas Jr. League newsheet. I would love to hear from my roommate Sandra Godfrey!"

Laurie Watson Moss and her husband, Bob, are still living and working at St. Andrew's School in Middletown, DE. "We are all looking forward to our sabbatical (1982-83)," writes Laurie. "We plan to spend it in Aix-en-Provence, France!"

Nancy Kirkland Murray reports that she is thoroughly enjoying motherhood. Kirk is now 19 months old and she finds life very different since his arrival, but very rewarding. She keeps herself busy with Kirk, his older brother (16), and his Dad, a professional golfer. Her life is very busy in the summers and particularly hectic as she handles all of her husband's business accounts. They live in Quebec, Canada.

Margaret McConaty Verlinde writes from Goldbar, WA, that she and her husband, Richard, are expecting a baby in October, 1981. Margaret says that she teaches music lessons in piano and guitar. She has been actively involved in Washington State Music Teachers Association and many of her students have entered local scholarship contests and participated in State Piano Auditions.

As for your secretary, Betsy Rumford Thwaite, I would like to say how much I have enjoyed hearing from so many of you! Our family spent the summer in Atlanta and nearby areas. Having worked everyday this year in our church's pre-school program, I really looked forward to summer vacation, and having lots of free time to be with my girls, Emily (7), and Libby (4). Please drop me a note or send me any pictures as the Bulletin is interested in publishing them now.

67

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Jeffrey Congdon (Katherine Burkett)
2355 Vallejo Street
San Francisco, CA 94123

Born: To Charley and Alice Altfillisch Earle, four sons on May 15, 1981. The quadruplets weighed between four and five pounds each and were doing fine. Congratulations, four times! They also have an 11 year old daughter, Caroline.

Married: Sheila Broderick Johnson to Dr. James S. Ellis on April 28, 1979. Jim graduated from Davidson College and the University of Georgia Veterinary School. They live in Williamsburg, VA.

News: Carol Jackson Winstead writes that she is busy mothering two active boys, ages 6 and 3.

Helene Shulman Kravis has three children: Harrison (9), Robert (8), and Kimberly (5). The boys attend the Buckley School and her daughter is in kindergarten at Spence.

Nicole deSugny MacDonald writes, "I really enjoyed seeing Jane Christopher and working on the PM phonathon in San Francisco in early February!"

68

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Joseph N. Jennings, Jr. (Wendy Clark)
16910 Village Lane
Grosse Pointe, MI 48230

Amy Hecker, '69, is Executive Director of Landmarks Preservation Council of Illinois. "It's a statewide non-profit organization which seeks to insure that architecturally and historically significant buildings and neighborhoods remain in active use," she says. This is achieved through technical assistance, advocacy, membership services, and a revolving fund. "It is a healthy challenge, but one for which I am ready," she writes. In 1976 Amy was one of twelve persons selected world-wide to enroll at the Institute of Architectural Studies of the University of New York, held in England. Amy has had a long career in the field of preservation.

Married: Dianne Lathrop to Ralph Law on June 6, 1981. Dianne is the manager of communications for the Personnel/Human Resource Division of Polaroid, a job she enjoys. In the fall she will earn her master's degree in corporate communications management from Boston University. Ralph is an international personnel manager for Polaroid. Miriam Phillips and Paula Heekin Connell attended the wedding. Dianne and Ralph will be living at 5 Highwood Road in Manchester, MA 01944.

News: In July of 1980, Ben and Judy Jameson Moore moved to Charleston, SC, from NC. Ben is now on the faculty at the Medical University of SC in the departments of psychiatry and neurology. Their son, B.J., is almost 3, with their second child due in August.

Elizabeth Land Hildreth is still in San Diego, CA. She is now the very busy mother of three, Sara (4), Jimmie (2), and Virginia (11 months). She does find time to go to the beach and wonders how Gayle Pantaleo is doing.

Susan Pagen Lawrence and her husband were expecting their first child in May, and she was looking forward to staying home after ten years of teaching. She would love to hear from Judy Carrington Smart and Dana Porter Carson.

Elizabeth Evans writes, "All is going well with my academic professional life here in NYC. I am enjoying my course work toward a Ph.D. in American Art at CUNY, particularly with inspiration from scholars such as William H. Gerds and Linda Nochlin. Those traumatic qualifying exams, however, do seem to be approaching all too quickly!"

Dawn Jones Abbot writes that both she and her husband, Haviland, are working in Washington, DC. Dawn is in the public relations business and Haviland is in commercial real estate. They planned to go to Bermuda for the first time in May. She writes, "I always remembered how much Alison Hubby Hoversten, '67, loved the island and I'm sure we will too. I see a lot of Kathleen Caputo Freeman, '63. She and her husband are helping Haviland and me adopt a child. Hopefully, I'll have some good news within a year."

This February, my husband and I were honored to have Beth Steffian, PM's Director of Development, stay with us while she was in the Detroit area visiting parents and alumnae. It was delightful to be able to catch up on what's happening at PMC. My new job with Jacobson's is going very well, and I'm also writing a guidebook on antiquing in southeastern MI with two other friends. What was once a hobby has become a serious interest, and hopefully an avenue which will lead to many new opportunities!

69

Class Secretary:

Mrs. John H. Dudley (E. Merrill Casgrain),
1126 Fair Oaks Road
Ann Arbor, MI 48104

Fate has been kind to us. For 12 years we have shared each other's engagements, marriages, births, careers, and even our disappointments and changes, too. To read the news of Tina Wilson Roos' death was as shocking and upsetting to me as it was, I'm sure, to you. I have written to her husband, John, and to her family, not only to express our shock, sadness, and grief, but also to share the joy and the good times that are so much a part of our memories of Tina at Pine Manor. Please do the same if you have a chance. Write to: John Roos, c/o Outdoors Unlimited, P.O. Box 754, Mt. Baldy, CA.

Born: To Suzanne Olds Sack and her husband, Kenneth, a daughter, Elizabeth Anne, born on August 25, 1980. Congratulations!

To Greg and Sheryl Mailliard Kammerer, their third daughter, Janel Somers, on November 5, 1980. Deanna (4) and Sarah (2) enjoy having a baby sister. She writes, "Greg is enjoying semi-retirement, and I am enjoying motherhood and having Greg at home with his girls. We are now living in Vacaville, CA."

"Our first child was born on November 16, 1980," writes Clayton Lawton Livingston and her husband, Lorton. "After PM, I attended the University of Georgia and then worked as a secretary in the fields of life insurance and management consulting. In 1976 I married the boy next door, and Lorton and I lived in Atlanta until last year. In May of 1980, Lorton started a new job at Avondale Mills in Sylacauga, AL, as the VP in charge of credit for his company. We moved to Sylacauga in July. Also, we celebrated our fifth wedding anniversary in May in San Francisco!"

To Hester Smith Vascancelos and Gileno, a daughter, Christina Peniston, on January 6, 1981. "She's a doll, and Jennifer just adores having a little sister!" Hester and Gileno have moved to Marietta, GA.

"Our first child, Jessica Hope, was born on September 23, 1980," writes Anne Hope Hamrick. "My husband, Dick, is building inspector for the county we live in. I'm taking a year's leave of absence from my job at the State Department of Welfare so I can enjoy Jessica."

Skylar (5) and Kingsley (2), daughters of Barbara West, '69, and Vertner Smith of Louisville, KY.

News: Caroline Bryan McCandless writes, "After nine wonderful years in Sydney, Australia, we are thrilled to be back in America! We are living outside of San Francisco and love it! Russell is a sales manager with IBM, and I am happily kept busy with our two sons, Timmy (4), and Michael (3)."

News of Margaret Iversen is that she was awarded her Ph.D. in Art History at the University of Essex in June of 1980. She is now a lecturer in the Art Department of that University. Every summer she is in NYC and would love to meet some old PM friends there.

"Having worked from Boston to Dallas as an actress over the last nine years," writes Susan Fox, "I finally figured out that I probably ought to be in NY. Well, here I am pounding the pavement, and paying dues all over again. Shortly after moving here I discovered Gretchen Metzloff is in the area. Gretchen is currently a technician for ABC-TV. I'd love to hear from anyone else who is in the area."

"Bob and I are enjoying our 6-year-old daughter, Janet Ashley, as she finishes first grade," writes Jean Hope Nye. "We travel to the Outer Banks of NC frequently where we have a beach house. I graduated in May of this year with a master's degree in guidance and counseling, although I may continue toward a six-year degree. We see my sister, Anne Hope Hamrick, and Dick often, and their new daughter, Jessica Hope."

Kristi Kerins writes that she returned to Pittsburgh in the summer of 1976 after living in Richmond, VA, for 11 years. She taught at the Winchester-Thurston School for three years before assuming the role of Director of the Middle School. She recently visited Susan Cooney Evans (her PM roommate) and her husband, Carter, in Bedford, NY. Susan is awaiting the arrival of her first baby and seems happy to have given up working in NYC. Susan has recently co-authored a book on fashion and beauty entitled Fashion Smarts, Playboy Press. Kristi would love to hear from Biba Richardson Olsen.

Kirsten (Lynda) Hartman writes that she is now working part-time as Office Manager/Bookkeeper for a small construction company that specializes in adobe and solar construction. She is still doing massage and recently taught a reflexology (foot massage) course that was a great success.

70

Class Secretary:

Mrs. Jonathon R. Gordon (Jane Geltman)
9900 St. John's Road
Minnetonka, MN 55343

Engaged: Jane E. Gutowski to Brendan John Connell. Jane is the Librarian for the First National Bank of Boston. Brendan, a graduate of NYU School of Business, is Sales Manager at Drake American Corporation, NYC.

Married: Mary Micheel to Joseph Tieman on February 14, 1981, in the Georgetown section of Washington, DC. Mary is a probation officer with the state of MD and is an active member of the Jr. League. Joe is the media director of the Pamela Parry, '70, and Peter Elebash are shown leaving their garden wedding ceremony in Palm Beach, FL.

National Radio Broadcasters Association in Washington, DC. He graduated from Marianapolis Prep and the University of CT at Storrs. They are living in Bethesda, MD.

Pamela Parry to Peter Hall Elebash on January 15 of this year. They honeymooned in Europe for a month and a half and Peter played polo in a match in which Prince Charles participated. Both Pamela and Peter continue to work in the field of property and foreign investments.

Born: To Nicholas and Suzanne Schumacher Stiassni, a daughter, Valerie, on May 19, 1980. They are living in Palos Verdes Estates, CA.

News: Joan Field writes, "In March of 1981 I had a two day visit with Diane Herring who is seriously thinking about moving to the San Francisco bay area from CT. I found out that Becky Lander Beeson had her second baby and is still living in Houston. I still work in a small clothing store and I'm learning the basics of sailing."

Susan Reddan Maguire writes from Pacific Palisades, CA, that she and her husband, Rob, lead a very busy life with four children: Robin (17), Peter (16), Alex (5), and Jennie (2). They took the whole gang to St. Martin for Christmas and had a wonderful time.

Deborah Strom Knight writes that she was married in July of 1980 to Giles Knight and has continued to work at the Philadelphia National Bank where she has been since her graduation from the University of Pennsylvania in 1972. Her husband works for the competition across the street, and they are both involved in investment work and trust departments. They are very busy with his two children, ages 14 and 12.

Marjorie Pile Mountain is now living in Washington, DC. She is totally engrossed in taking care of Robby (3), and Leila (1), and in getting ready for another in November. It is the most difficult and most tiring job she has ever had, but very rewarding all the same!

Bonnie Schlitz Loeb writes that she and her husband are now living in Washington after three years in Boston and a year in San Francisco where they were in close touch with Shirley Newberger Rosenbloom and her husband, Skip. Bonnie went back to graduate school and received her MBA in December of 1980, and is now working in fund raising at the National Gallery of Art. Her husband is a lawyer with a private firm in DC, and he enjoys participating in politics. He is on the advisory board of the Center for Democratic Policy, the new "think tank" for the Democratic party.

Stephanie Mardesich writes from San Pedro, CA, that in January she traveled to Vienna for the premier of "Evita" in German. She then continued on through Italy to Paris and the United Kingdom. She has been around the world with "Evita," has written articles on the show, and hopes to finish her MA in film studies by doing a thesis on the transition of the play from stage to screen.

Nancy Kirby McWilliams writes that she and her husband are very busy with their new house, having just finished redoing the guest rooms and moving on to the master suite. They had a lovely vacation in FL.

Joan Langenberg writes that she is very happy in her job as a travel agent at Sun International Travel in St. Louis. She has been able to travel quite a bit which has been exciting. She is also involved in church work and is active with tennis and promoting education on the current national issues.

Jane Geltman Gordon is very busily involved in politics. She is the only woman counsel member of Minnetonka City Counsel. She is also busy with her son, T.J. (4), and her daughter, Katie (2). Also, another baby was due in May of 1981. Her husband, Jonathan, a C.P.A., just started his own practice in February as a tax specialist in Minneapolis.

Thank you for all of your cards and letters, and I hope that we will have another newsy column in the coming issues.

71

Class Secretary:

Elizabeth Dorgan
2906 Montana Avenue
Santa Monica, CA 90403

Born: To Larry and Kathy McCahey Lechner, their first child, Kristina, born on March 8, 1981. Larry heads up Lechner Construction and Development Company. Kathy, eight years a ski instructor at Vail, CO, is now retired!

To Brian and Lucinda Acer Harriss, a son, Brett Clement Harriss. Brett was born on April 20, 1981. The Harriss family lives in Waterloo, Ontario.

To John and Karen Fell Clift, a son, Jeremiah Edward, on May 26, 1981. Their daughter, Lauren, is 3, and the family moved to VT over the summer.

News: Robin Peake loves living in Houston. She moved back there two years ago from Denver and started a successful catering business, "A Peake Experience."

Susan Skeeters Lund writes, "I am now working for Catalyst, a national non-profit organization that helps women in business. As Program Director for Catalyst's Career and Family Center, I write and edit a quarterly publication called Career and Family Bulletin — all about the issues facing two-career families. In case you haven't heard, Ann Parish Thornton had a baby girl, Leslie, on November 16, 1980. I'm very proud to be her godmother!"

Carole Bond, '71, was married to Christopher G. Gordon on June 28, 1981. Chris is a real estate investor. They are presently living in Dallas. Guests at their wedding were (l-r): Cid Roberts-Young, Carole, Carol Liebmann, and Lucy Steere.

Jan Ann Knight is now working at Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation as the Director of Annual Giving, located in La Jolla, CA.

Marcella (Meg) Gallagher plays one of J.R. Ewing's girlfriends and his secretary on the TV series "Dallas." Meg has been seen on Ultra Brite commercials and on the cover of Us Magazine.

72

Class Secretary:

Judith Myers
440 East 79th Street, #10B
New York, NY 10021

Married: Kim Johnson to David Earl Gross in May, 1981. Kim is an associate art director with Peter Rogers Associates, a NY advertising agency. Her husband is with Hardy Holzman Pfeiffer Associates, architects in NY.

Cynthia Chase to Paul V. Wessling on November 3, 1980. Paul is a graduate of Yale and is a stockbroker. They are living in Hingham, MA.

Elizabeth Allen to John Henry Dodderidge on October 4, 1980. Grace Lawson was the maid of honor. John, a graduate of St. Paul's and UVA, is the assistant branch manager of the Rockville, MD, branch of Travel Resources, a Washington travel agency. Liz owns Liz's Home Made Ice Cream and the Big Cheese, both in Rehoboth, DE. They are living in Alexandria, VA.

Susan Shirey to Robert Blanchard on March 8, 1980, in Pasadena, CA. Dorothy Mist Mulvey and Debbie Bodeen Calhoun were in the wedding party. Sue got her M.A. in teaching from Berkeley, and then taught French for five years at the college and high school levels in the San Francisco area. She and Robert are now living in San Diego where Sue is pursuing a career in photojournalism and has been working for small newspapers and local magazines. She also freelances for the LA Times and other major newspapers in the area. Robert is an attorney.

Born: To Christy Trent Johnson and her husband, a daughter, Whitney Anne, on August 28, 1980. Christy hopes to start teaching aerobic dancing in the spring.

To Monica Senosiain Jacobs and her husband, Tom, Christina Maria, in May of 1979. They are living in Winston-Salem, NC, where Monica is working for L'Eggs Products as Consumer Promotions Manager and Tom is practicing law.

To Katherine Moore Grant and her husband, Bob, Melissa Ann, on January 27, 1981. Their other daughter, Sarah, is almost 3.

Kathy Woolsey Martin wrote that she is the mother of Allison, born in November of 1979, and she was expecting her second child in May.

To Mary Chapman McDonald and her husband, a second daughter, Emily-Anne Harkins, on February 1, 1981. She joins her sister Hilary who is 19 months old. Mary is involved in making children's appliquéd and quilted vests and smocked dresses. Two local stores are selling them and she hopes to build up enough inventory to include a shop in NYC. Mary sees Margay Lindsey Becker as their daughters are the same age and have a great time together. She also keeps in touch with Suzie Otto Carter.

News: Suzanne Otto Carter writes, "Steve and I moved to a new house in Greenwich last summer. I teach nursery at Brunswick School (private, all boys) across the street."

Margay Lindsey Becker writes, "I'm still living in Cos Cob, CT, and I play tennis with Ellen Paalborg Hastings. I'm working part-time doing research for an executive search firm. My daughter, Lindsey, is almost 2. Her godmother is Jane Rosenthal Horvitz who lives in Cleveland now."

Kingmanee Dabbaransi Krairiksh is now headmistress of the Somthavil Rajadamri School (2200 girls) in Thailand.

Heather Brindle Wolfe and her husband, Jerry, left Florida at the end of March on their 45 foot sloop, "Après Ski," for the Caribbean. They expect to spend the hurricane months south of the storm area, probably in Granada. They are due back in FL in early November.

Cheryl Coulter writes that she is still involved with tennis and was back at PM as the head pro at the tennis camp again this summer.

Sandra Swan writes, "I have begun my own personnel consulting business in Washington, DC. Anyone job hunting in Washington from PMC? WENDLER-SWAN PERSONNEL, INC., CT Avenue. Karen Eppler has moved to France."

Grace Lawson writes, "after talking about it forever, I rented my townhouse in DC and finally moved to paradise — Honolulu — in January of 1980. Life here is relaxed and I enjoy sailing, tennis, swimming, etc., year-round." She worked in real estate management at first, as she did in DC, became dissatisfied, and returned to school at the University of Hawaii to work on an MBA. She then began working for Burger King in the marketing department. Grace said that she came back east last October to be in Elizabeth Allen's wedding. At that time she also saw Greg and Valerie Phillips Huba and their daughter, Haley, and Paul and Linda Carr Corbin, '71 and their daughter, Elizabeth.

Anne Evans Leonard is working part-time in a travel agency in Portland, ME, and substitute teaching the other days of the week. She and her husband, Jim, were expecting their first baby in August.

Meredith Mason McClure and her husband, Dave, were transferred to St. Louis in August, 1980. Dave is with Marriott Hotels and Meredith has temporarily given up her hotel manager responsibilities to manage the Calico Corners fabric store in St. Louis. They have bought a home in the suburbs and are enjoying renovating it. Meredith does volunteer work at the Missouri Botanical Garden in the orchid house.

Beth Clark Neilson and her husband are expecting their second child this fall. They are running a small race horse farm where they primarily train timber horses. They are also breeding golden retrievers. Beth seems to be quite busy with sports and is the team captain of the local tennis team.

Dorothy Kee wrote that she has moved back to Dallas after selling her farm in Fort Worth. She works for Electronic Data systems as an industrial engineer in the health services division. Dory is still active in the Jr. League and enjoys her work as a volunteer at Children's Medical Center.

Dorothy "DC" Mist Mulvey is now living in Rye, but hopes to move back to San Francisco or HI eventually. Between as many trips as she can manage to HI, she keeps busy with the antique business and pursuing ad/design photography. She saw Anne Green Fortin and her son, Adam, last fall on her way to Nantucket.

1980 was an exciting and challenging year for Stephanie Sopkin Calvo and her husband, Roberto. In February they moved from Mexico City to Ciudad Juarez, across the border from El Paso, TX. Roberto established his own corporate law firm with two other partners and Stephanie found a teaching job in El Paso. She has also been involved with the Jr. League. The most thrilling part of the year came on December 22 when their first child, Daniel, was born. Congratulations!

Beth Rohlfing Tavino is presently a senior assistant buyer for May D & F department store in Denver, CO. Beth and her husband, Ralph, are presently living in Lakewood, CO.

Mary Heins has bought a new home in Boulder, CO, and among the first visitors was Martha Kelley who was on her way to Peru. Christie Kelley is in Portland, OR, working as a graphic artist. Nancy Voorhees Hennessy is living and teaching in San Francisco. Molly went to England this past summer on business and pleasure and loved it. She put together an international sales meeting at a CO ski resort last January.

Kathleen King is working in NY as a sound recordist in film and television.

Eve Bernow Hirsch is an account executive for WKKK-FM, a leading radio station in AL.

Tracy Gamble Hirrel, her husband, Dick, and her son, Brian, moved to San Marino, CA, this past summer. Dick passed the bar in May and opened his own law practice. Tracy has been helping him and has been quite active in the Jr. League of Pasadena and the Gamble House, a national landmark. Her greatest joy is taking care of their 3-year-old.

Marilyn Coles Haykin recently completed interior design courses at the NY School of Interior Design. She is now a full fledged Interior Decorator.

Andree Gros-Daillon Severance is teaching kindergarten in HI and is a company commander's wife with her husband, Major Severance.

Lucy Welbourn Johnson and her husband moved to the Chicago area in July of 1980 when Charlie joined the faculty at the University of Chicago. He is an assistant professor of surgery. Lucy received an MAT from Berkeley in June of 1980, and their first child was due in April.

Cindy Vietor Kahle and her husband, Kent, have moved to Philadelphia where Kent attends Wharton Business School. Cindy is teaching kindergarten at the Penn Charter School and they are living in Chestnut Hill. They spent a glorious month in Bermuda this summer and look forward to more!

73

Class Secretary:

Eileen J. Fleder
444 East 75th Street
New York, NY 10021

Married: Sherril Luff to Steven Alexander Reoch on November 8, 1980. Patricia Green Dunn and Ann Swift Robinson were attendants at the wedding in Bala Cynwyd, PA. Sherril plans to continue working as a secretary to the executive vice president for Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization in Washington, DC. Steven is the manager of Yacht Sales for the Gangplank Marina, also in DC. They have purchased a 47 foot wooden sailboat which they plan to live on in southwest Washington. Enjoy!

Elizabeth Haywood Furey to Martin LeBoutillier III, in May of 1981. Elizabeth is the manager of the Sandpiper, a women's clothing store in Chestnut Hill, MA. Martin is a student at Boston University.

Carol Malinowski to Arthur R. Snyder, an M.D.—Ph.D. student at NY Medical College, on May 16, 1981.

Katherine McFeely to John Fazio on October 4, 1980, in Boston. John is a commercial and industrial real estate broker for Coldwell Banker Company, and Kathy is working for Keystone Massachusetts in their sales division, marketing their mutual funds and trust services to retail brokers in the northeast.

Born: To Laurie Pile Barrett and her husband, David, a daughter, Elizabeth Chadbourne Barrett, on January 25, 1981.

To Pamela Beardsley Merriman and Rich, a son, Edward (Teddy) on Christmas Day, 1980.

To Ellen Varn Lowman and her husband, Don, a son, James Edmund Lowman, on Friday, March 13, 1981.

To Patricia Green Dunn and her husband, Stephen, Melissa Anne Dunn, born on May 19, 1980.

To Deborah DeLuca Price and her husband, Kevin, a son, Adam Christopher Price, on November 28, 1980.

To Deborah Hartigan Rowland and her husband, Chris, a baby boy, Niles, delivered two weeks late on August 19, 1980.

News: Suzanne Langdon Congdon writes, "We have been living in Ithaca, NY, while Bill has been studying for his MBA at Cornell. I am an Assistant Editor for my father's technical journal, Metal Finishing, and have been working 'by mail.' I have been taking courses and also taking advantage of Cornell's pool, track, and gym. I'm also on two softball teams!" Suzanne and Bill planned a trip to Europe for six weeks after Bill graduated in May. They plan to live in the NYC area.

Mary-Jean Arnot Noonan was married in June of 1975 and is living in Wellesley, MA, with her husband, John, and their 3-year-old son, Danny.

Sara Lovell is currently living in Evanston, IL, and is working as an R.N. in an intensive care psychiatric unit. She loves it!

Carmen "Coqui" Nevares is very involved in the milk industry of Puerto Rico dealing with farmers, government agencies, consumers, and the milk men. She is working as an Assistant Manager and in Public Relations at Suiza Dairy Corporation. She enjoys the lovely climate of the Caribbean.

Pamela Beardsley Merriman and her husband, Rich, moved into their home over a year ago and spent many months painting, remodeling, decorating, etc., all in time for the arrival of their first child. Pam left her job as an Estates and Trust Legal Assistant for the joys of her new occupation — motherhood.

Carol Malinowski Snyder will receive her Ph.D. in biochemistry from NY Medical College in 1981. She received her master's degree in biochemistry in 1980.

Mary Reece Merrill and her husband, Tom, have returned to the Boston area. Tom, having graduated from University of Virginia's Law School, will be practicing law with the law firm of Palmer and Dodge beginning in September of 1981. They have two children: Ben (3), and Kate (born in October, 1980).

Marion Hancock Fish, '74 is a lawyer with the firm of Costello, Cooney, and Fearon in Syracuse, New York. She worked as a reporter for the Syracuse Herald-Journal prior to receiving her law degree from Syracuse University Law School in May, 1980.

Mercedes Cooper Murza and her husband have relocated to Maple Shade, NJ, from Cleveland, OH. John, a research metallurgist, and Mercedes, a dental hygienist, are busy fixing up their new home.

Ellen Varn Lowman keeps busy with fundraising efforts for her 4-year-old's co-op school, Jr. League, and hospital volunteer work. Her husband, Don, has been promoted to merchandise manager at Joskes of Dallas.

Suzanne Newton has been in the Brookline area since graduating from PMC and is involved in the real estate market. She has been a property manager and is presently buying several condominiums for investment purposes.

Mady Howard Lee and her husband, Bob, live in Birmingham, AL. Mady is now at the University of Alabama teaching composition-English. Extra-curricular activities for Mady consist of Rush Recommendations Chairman for hersorority, Kappa Alpha Theta, and for the Women's Committee for the Alabama Symphony Association.

Upon Anne Maggio's return to NY from Europe, Lauren Shanahan Schuchart and her husband, George, visited for four days from Seattle, WA, and then Susan Smith Bradley visited for another four days. Both have been spending time with Eileen Fleder and Joyce Manelas Silverman. Susan is living in Fayetteville, NC, with her husband, Captain William Bradley. They are stationed at Pope AFB.

Brooke Stebbins Eubank and her husband have moved to Concord, NH. Dan joined a group practice of family medicine. Brooke has been doing part-time work in the field of geriatrics, developing an elderly day care center in Concord.

Lisa Pickens Foster began a Christian Pre-School in the fall of 1980. She also reports that she has two children, Autumn (4), and Daniel (2).

H. Elizabeth Forker is still living in NYC and working for Reader's Digest as the International Associate Marketing Director. In June she attended a European sales conference in Portugal and then spent some vacation time traveling through Europe. She says "hi" to Poppy, Edie, Beth, and Laura.

Caroline Reverdin Flanagan is now living in Reno, NV, with her two children, Erin (3), and Sean (2). Her husband, Patrick, is an attorney for the Washoe County Public Defenders. She enjoys being a housewife and often wonders about Jill, Betsey, and Pat.

Deborah DeLuca Price works as a social service consultant for nursing homes and Kevin works in product management for General Mills, Inc., both in Minneapolis, MN.

Jenny Frutchy has finally left the hills of VT and has relocated to the city lights of NY. She is an admissions officer and program advisor at NYU Graduate School of Business Administration for the MBA program. She is also setting up an arts management program. In 1981, Jenny plans to work on her master's degree in education at Harvard. Jenny sees Susan Rich and Jean Gilbane often.

After four years at the YMCA, Ann Shoemaker is now a manager trainee at Cullum and Boren in Richardson, TX. She is very active in soccer, basketball, and softball. After six years, while at the hairdresser's, Ann ran into Laura Bayourd Hunt, her old roommate. What a surprise!

Hilary Higgins Parker and her husband, Tom, moved from Boston to Woodberry Forest, VA, last summer. Tom has taken a teaching position in the English Department of the Woodberry Forest School, a boy's college preparatory boarding school. Hilary is currently working in the school's Alumni/Development Office and is enjoying country life very much.

Elaine Parker Hawkes began working on her M.Ed. in expressive therapies at Lesley College in September of 1980 with a major in art therapy.

Kate Halsey was elected an Investment Officer of RI Hospital National Bank in Providence. She has been with the bank for a year and a half working in the Bond Management area of hospital trust investors. She recently purchased a house on the east side of Providence.

Susan Imburg Minkin received a BFA in Art Education from Syracuse University. She was married in August of 1975 and moved to VA where she substitute taught for a year before accepting a job as a nursery school teacher in 1977. In June of 1980 she left teaching to become the mother of their first child, Jonathan Abraham, born on August 27, 1980. Congratulations!

Laura Bayourd Hunt writes, "I have three children, Elizabeth Gannon (6), John Ward, Jr. (4), and Andrew Stuart (2). They keep me quite busy, and I am also remodeling our home and playing 'madame contractor!' Within the last year I've seen Edith Jones and Mary Wolf in Washington and Liz Forker and Beth Beekman Kraus in NY."

Lesley Shear Heyman is presently employed with the law firm of Eldrige, Goggins, and Weiss as a probate paralegal. She would love to hear from alumnae in the Dallas area.

As for your class secretary, Eileen Fleder, I enjoyed my five weeks of travel to the Middle East and Europe in August and September of 1980. My six month Hand Fellowship ended the first of April, so I would now like to become a Hand Therapist. This is the most fascinating speciality within occupational therapy! Colette Frederick is a frequent visitor of mine in NY.

I've enjoyed getting all the news of our class. Keep it coming! Lost and Found: Deborah Hartigan Rowland would love to hear from Andrea Dill Harbison and her husband, Miki.

Hilary Higgins Parker asks, "Betsey Bristol, '72, where are you?"

Eileen Fleder asks, "Nikki Kaplan, where are you?? Susan Bickel, have you forgotten your friend in NY?"

Sara Lovell is looking for Noel Butcher.

Coqui Nevares would love to hear from Nancy McNally.

Both Cindy Steinacker Borne and Carol Malinowski Snyder are trying to locate Laura First Whitmore.

Suzanne Newton regrets not hearing from Martha Torrance, Virginia "Jinx" Wall, Patti Collins, and Wendy Freedman.

74

Class Secretary:

Linda Felsenthal Hanan
2650 Lakeview, #1302
Chicago, IL 60614

Married: Susan Daly to Michael Nicholas, Jr., on November 15, 1980. Susan is an institutional sales assistant with Faherty & Faherty investment bankers. Michael is an underwriter with the American Re-Insurance Company in NY.

Lisa Cowan to Barry P. Bryant on May 24, 1980, in Nashville, TN. Leslie Burr was an attendant. Barry is currently a restaurant manager working on an MBA degree. "Susan Owen passed through Nashville and called," wrote Lisa. "She is with the Better Business Bureau in DC. We're both looking for Cindy Scott!"

Eaddo Williams Hayes to Peter DeLacy Kieran III, in April of 1981. Eaddo is the Creative Services Coordinator at Home Box Office and Peter is an advertising representative for Fairchild Publications.

Harriet Goss to Harry Rosengarten Madeira, Jr., in June of 1981. Harriet is director of contemporary art at the Graham Gallery in New York. Her husband, known as Gary, is an assistant vice president with the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company's national division.

Debra R. Wilson to Daniel J. Doris on July 25, 1981. Debra is a computer programmer at Engelhard Minerals & Chemicals in Menlo Park, NJ. Daniel is a computer programmer analyst at CGA, Inc., in Cranford, NJ. Wendie Rose-Golden and her husband, Glenn, were invited to the festivities!

Born: To Chris and Pamela Lynch Coursen, twin boys, Cameron and Matthew, on February 2, 1981. The twins weighed seven pounds each! Lourdes Peck is Matthew's godmother. Pam and Chris are living in Chevy Chase, MD.

To Russell and Helen Bearn Pennoyer, a son, Gordon Pennoyer, in October of 1980.

News: Holly Rodgers Jordan is vice president of the Association Board of the Burlington Mall and the only female on the Board.

75

Class Secretary:

Lisa S. Baird
1907 Dorcus Lane
Wilmington, DE 19085

Married: Lisa Connors to Donald Lorenzet on November 8, 1980, at Memorial Church in Harvard Yard. Guests included Mary Anne Connor Dignan, '75, and Susan Johnson, Deborah Dobbins and Karen Sylvester Swenson, all '74. Donald is at CSS in Wilton, CT. They live in Fairfield, CT.

Lucille Oppenheimer to James Houston Travis on June 27. Ann Arneson Allen and Suzy Bird were bridesmaids. They are now living in San Antonio, TX.

Sandra Smith to Bruce Ottilige on March 14, 1981, in Newport, RI. Sandra is the executive manager of the Astro's Owner Club at the Astrodome, Houston. Bruce is self-employed in Houston and is studying electronic communications at the National Radio Institute.

Eve Center to Andrew Stern on June 28, 1980, in Washington, DC.

Sarah Hobbs to Steven Burger on June 15, 1980. Steven owns a scrap metal company in Waterbury, CT. Sarah plans to finish her BS in biology and enter the computer world.

News: Janet Tramel Eads earned her MBA from Suffolk University in December of 1980.

Marlowe "Molly" Hagood writes, "I am currently unemployed, but I'm keeping busy with volunteer work around Rochester—helping out in Pediatrics at Strong Memorial Hospital, working on the fund drive for the United Way, and selling tickets and house sitting at the Jr. League Decorators' Show House. I'm also job hunting on the side!"

Lisa Henninger Jackson writes, "I was married on July 26, 1980, and my husband and I just bought a house in Pittsburgh. I work in the art department at the Home for Crippled Children and really love it. Hello to Mary Hunsiker and Lita Kean."

Sarah Langenfeld has been signed to star in Bangkok Film Company's production of "Gold II."

Ann Bierbower is an account manager at David Mann Advertising in NY. Her last job was press officer for Josiah Wedgwood and Sons, ceramic manufacturers.

Ann Bisgyer completed her master's degree in administrative education at George Washington University. She is now coordinator of housing at Goucher College in Towson, MD.

Barkley Boutell Koppel was expecting her first child in May, at which time she planned to retire from her position as manager of University National Bank in Denver, CO.

Emmett Boney has returned to the University of NC, Chapel Hill Law School.

Mary Lita Kean has moved from NY to Philadelphia. She was in "Play It Again, Sam" in NJ.

Beverly Gore Godfrey-Thomas writes that she and her husband, David, and their son have moved from London, England, to 637 Cove Road, #A5, Stamford, CT 06902.

Elise Langan is living in NYC and has finished playing the role of Celia in Michael Gazzo's play, "A Hatful of Rain," at the American Theatre of Actors. Her next role will be in the production of "The Marriage Proposal" by Chekhov.

Barbara Hughes Erard graduated from the University of Michigan Law School on August 9, 1980, and was married to Robert Erard in Indianapolis in December of 1980. She has been admitted to the MI Bar and is an attorney with the firm of Dickenson, Wright, McKean, Cudlip, and Moon. Her husband is a clinical psychologist with the Lakewood Clinic in Birmingham, MI. She writes that she would like to get in touch with Mary Ann Connor Dignan.

Leeta Ricketts Albea has bought "The Shop for Pappagallo" in Indianapolis. She is also the mother of a 9-month-old girl, Emily. She writes that she had dinner with Madeleine Rudin and Lee Ann Whiteside in NY.

Ruth Conark is working for the United Cerebral Palsy in an Infant Development Program, located in a suburb of Boston.

Elizabeth Amory Bliss writes, "Zenas and I are doing very well. I teach third grade at the Park School in Brookline and am enjoying every moment. Zenas is a geologist for a company in Cambridge."

76

Class Secretary:

Gail M. Busby
c/o Mrs. G.P. Kettles
491 South Barry Avenue
Mamaroneck, NY 10543

Married: Melissa McNeely to Robert Schwenn Thompson, Jr., on August 8, 1981. Mary Scannell was a bridesmaid. Melissa is a registered representative working with Oppenheimer and Company in Chicago. Rob works at the Board of Trade in Chicago and attends Law School at night.

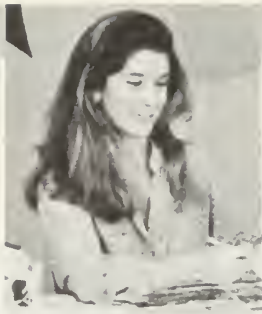

Lillie Singleton to Vincent Jackson on September 1, 1979. Her Maid of Honor was Angela Jones, and guests included Cathy and Lora Ferreira, '77. Their daughter, Taneshia Leah, was born on January 16, 1981. Lillie and Vincent are living in Hyde Park, MA.

Amy Gelin McCollough joined the Centredale, RI, office of Citizens Bank as assistant manager. She joined the bank in 1978.

Tina Woldow writes, "Assisted by a government grant, I completed a project for the Valley Forge National Historic Park. The project consisted of photographic work and restoration research on the vast militaria collection related to the American Revolution that is housed in the Park's archives. The pieces reviewed are part of the celebrated Newmann Collection of Historical Militaria. Currently I am employed by a photo retail chain but continue to freelance in photography. A proposal is underway for publishing a book on Historical, homes within Valley Forge Park."

Vivan Panyarachun Sarakitprija is the founder and headmistress of Gookgai Kindergarten in Thailand. The school is four years old and teaches with Montessori methods.

Srichanok Wattanasiri is an instructor in French at Thammasat University in Bangkok, Thailand.

For the past two years Beatriz Morini, '77, has worked for one of the best known travel agencies in Puerto Rico: Zip Travel. As a travel agent for the company she has had the opportunity to travel to Europe, the U.S., South America, the Caribbean Islands, and the Bahamas.

77

Class Secretary:

Gertrude N. Dempsey
2532 Q Street, NW
Washington, DC 20007

Married: Cecily Marble to John Hintzen on May 24, 1980, in Santa Barbara, CA. Cecily is the Program Director for the Santa Barbara Girls' Club and hopes to be a children's therapist. John is working on a business venture. Cecily would like to hear from Macon Asbury.

Janet Shoemaker to Mark Rutan on October 20, 1979. Janet and Mark both received their BS degrees from Purdue University in 1979. Mark works for John Deere as Service Training Coordinator in the Marketing Department. Janet taught at a day care center and at pre-schools until their first child was born! He is Neil Edwin and he was born on February 23, 1981.

Christine Lambert to Louis Anthony Cox, Jr., on September 8, 1979, in Newport. Louis is a Harvard graduate and is a consultant at Arthur D. Little, Inc. Christine received her degree from Wellesley College after having spent a semester at Cornell.

News: Kim Fruehauf is an Assistant Buyer at J.L. Hudson's in Detroit, and gets together with Libby Candler and Leslie McKay.

Page Lockhart, who got her start in the "Manor Marathon," has continued running and is now branching into roller skating. Between runs, she is studying at Boston University School of Fine Arts.

Allison Lett graduated from the University of Cincinnati and is an Account Executive at Kelly Services. Allison also writes that the PM trip to Brazil was super and that she enjoyed seeing her fellow classmates in the Preppie Handbook.

Debbie Burns is working for the Elkhorn Resort in Sun Valley, ID, doing sales coordination. She says the skiing is wonderful and she extends an open invitation to her PMC classmates to come out and visit her soon.

Pam Gaylin was a bridesmaid in Mary Murfey's, '76, wedding in Malibu.

Lindsay Johnson's store in Philadelphia is doing very well. The store's name is "Foolish Pleasure" and it is located in Strafford, PA.

As for myself, I am leaving my position at the Georgetown University Undergraduate Admissions Office for one with the American Bankers Association!

I didn't hear from many of you gals for this bulletin; please stay in touch!

78

Class Secretary:

Lisa M. Saunders
12 Stoneholm Street, Apt. 623
Boston, MA 02115

Engaged: Elizabeth Pinney Hunt to Mark Sunnott. Following her graduation from the University of Michigan, Elizabeth moved to Beacon Hill in Boston. A wedding is planned at Christmas time.

Miriam Fields to Francis M. Babineau. Miriam has moved into a townhouse, and her new address is 8423 Fuerte Court, Alexandria, VA 22309. She graduated from the University of Maryland in May with a BS degree in Psychology and Zoology. In January she began her own business as an animal trainer for both domestic and entertainment purposes. The wedding has been set for November 28, 1981, and she invites all her friends from the Class of '78 to attend! You can contact Miriam at (703) 780-8182.

Married: Cathy Hochman to Mark Harris Gutman on June 7, 1981. Mark is a graduate of the University of Missouri at Columbia and is presently completing his master's degree at Washington University. Cathy, who graduated from Washington University in May of 1980, is training to be a paralegal.

Valerie Katz to H. Scott Shore on August 23, 1980, on Hilton Head Island, SC. Scott, a 1977 graduate of Harvard, is presently working towards his master's degree in business administration at Columbia University. Valerie is an assistant buyer for Bloomingdales. She and her husband live in NYC and welcome any PM people who come into town. Martha Griffin, Marsia Quill and Patrice LeBlanc were Valerie's attendants.

Maria Najri to Antonio Junquera on July 12, 1980. Maria is expecting her first child.

Nicole Abair to Thomas Smith Robertson on January 17, 1981. Tom is advertising coordinator at Optical Publishing Company in Pittsfield, MA.

Susan Dod to Phillip Van Reen on May 31, 1981, in Cranston, RI. Phillip is a sales representative for the Gorham Textron Company and Susan is an international flight attendant for World Airways. Sue would love to hear from her classmates; her new address is 8073 Shorewood Drive, Matthews, NC 28105.

News: Julia Post recently moved back to Boston to attend the School of Management at Boston University.

Stephanie Brod is attending Hunter College in NYC where she will earn her master's degree in urban planning.

Claire Fisher, who graduated from the University of Colorado at Boulder, plans to start her career in an advertising agency in Boston. She sends her hellos to everyone!

Martha Griffin, who graduated from Denison University with a major in English and communications, spent the summer of 1980 traveling throughout the US. She then began a job as a senior computer coordinator with combustion engineering in Windsor, CT. She writes that it is a job which requires travel, patience, excellent communication skills, and a constant smile.

Jane Hammond, who graduated from Middlebury College in June of 1980, spent that summer traveling through Australia, New Zealand, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and China. Last fall she campaigned for Jim Buckley. Jane anticipates participating in the many activities of the Colonial Dames in NY and the Historical Society this year.

Cynthia Hanney attended Mercy College in Dobbs Ferry, NY, where she received her BA and Teacher's Certificate in Early Childhood Education in May of this year. Cynthia and Virginia Staniford went to Houston, TX, in December of 1980 to attend Mimi Barnhart's wedding and had a terrific time!

Holly Higbee, who graduated from Skidmore College with a degree in business/government, most recently returned to the Boston area to find a job in media. She spent a summer in Hyannis working as a stewardess for Provincetown Airlines.

Celia Wood Keen, who graduated from Georgetown University, is presently living with her husband in Cookeville, TN, where he is attending Tennessee Technical College in electrical engineering. Celia is employed with First Tennessee National Bank. She asks that Blima Soihet Cohen send her address and wishes her lots of happiness in her marriage.

Marsia Quill is living at home in PA for a temporary period of time and has plans to return to the Boston area to find a job.

Nanda Panyarachun Krairiksh is a research assistant for the Youth Development Section at ESCAP (Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific), a branch of the UN.

Cathryn Crisman graduated from Babson College in May of 1980. While there she co-chaired a dance-a-thon for Muscular Dystrophy and was elected Governor for the New England District of Circle K. In November of 1980 she began working for the Procter and Gamble Distributing Company where she is currently a management trainee working in NYC. She is living in Roslyn on Long Island.

Gail Bleakie is traveling around the world with a friend, Lynn Keepper. They started in HI and have visited Fiji, New Zealand, Australia, and Malaysia. They plan to see Singapore, Bangkok, Nepal, India, and Kenya before winding up in Europe in August.

79

Class Secretary:

Sarah G. Soule
100 Thompson Road
Shelburne, VT 05482

Married: Rosa Alvarez to Federico Menendez on July 5, 1980, in El Salvador. Her Maid of Honor was Lillian Battle, '77. Rosa would like to get in touch with Jeannie McCarron.

Cindy Wood to William J. Morrisette on February 14, 1981. Dianne Verrochi, '81, Eileen Hogan, Willoughby Meyns, and Susan Bomes, '80, attended the wedding.

Dianne Verrochi to Chad Forman on April 5, 1981. Bridesmaids were Dreamie Cioffi, '81, Eileen Hogan and Karen Fish.

Alexandra Wright to Gordon Scott Clemson on June 21, 1981. They were married in an apple orchard at Lexy's parents' home in Hamilton, MA. Lexy enjoys gardening and is also coaching field hockey and lacrosse at the Brookwood School. Scott is teaching Latin at the Tower School in Marblehead, and is a graduate of Harvard.

News: Terri Kucia graduated from BU's School of Management in May.

Susan Mayne graduated with a BA in business management from Hartwick College in May and hopes to get into marketing. She saw Jane Meehan, '78, last fall, and saw Carrie Swan, '80, every day at Hartwick. Susan writes that she especially misses Barbara Ferguson.

Barbara Ferguson and Frances Moore recently graduated from the University of Richmond. After graduation, Frances and Weezie Henkel traveled to Europe for six weeks. They planned on visiting Augusta Van de Ven, '80, in Amsterdam. Frances also spent four days in Boston during her spring break with Pam Casparian, Willoughby Meyns, Jenny Swift, and Leslie Jennings, '80, who all share an apartment.

Akiko Shimada has a job in the export/import marketing department of Dixie, Japan Ltd.

Karen Levins writes, "In May I graduated from Simmons College with a BA degree in Human Services and Early Childhood Education. I am presently looking for a job in a children's hospital in the child life activity field. My plans for the summer include a trip to Europe!"

Eileen Hogan writes that Sara McCausland is working as a medical secretary at the Toronto General Hospital. Sara lost her father last October after a long illness. Our sympathies to Sara.

Eva Lopez-Davidson has been busy! She spent the summer of 1980 in France participating in Bryn Mawr's program. Eva graduated with a degree in economics and French from Wellesley College in May. She is planning on going to Paris with PM's program next year. She then plans to attend the Cordon Bleu Gourmet Cooking School, after which she will enroll in graduate school.

Cathy Lux is living in San Diego and is a registered medical assistant. She is waiting to get into a physician's assistant program which will enable her to assist in surgeries. Cathy says that anyone who is in the San Diego area should give her a call.

Mary Kennedy graduated from Drake University in Des Moines, IA, in May. Her degree was from the School of Journalism with a minor in graphic design.

As for me, I have one semester to go and will graduate with a degree in marketing management. Last November, my mother was elected one of VT's thirty state senators. Our entire family was actively involved in her campaign, which proved very interesting: she is a Democrat and Dad is a Republican!

Keep in touch, everyone!

80

Class Secretary:

Sheila H. Fitzgerald
1329 Hackberry Lane
Winnetka, IL 60093

Engaged: Jennifer Ann Campbell to Neven Rabadjija. Jennifer is a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution and Neven is associated with the law firm of Arter and Hadden in Cleveland, OH.

News: Dawn March vacationed at a Club Med in Martinique in February! She is presently a commodity broker and trades Treasury Bills. Dawn said that "the markets are tough and my voice is weak; needless to say, I love it!" Also, "I send many thanks to Dr. Carter and Mrs. O'Gara, and to the rest of the people at PM for helping me onto the right track."

After brain surgery, Cathy Crockett is progressing slowly but surely and hopes that her sight will return. She would love to hear from any classmates and friends. Her address is: c/o Mrs. Robertson, 6525 East Exeter, Scottsdale, AZ 85251.

Robin McFall is attending the University of Arizona in Tucson where she is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. Robin spent the summer in Boston with Cynthia Lowery and invites anyone in the area to drop by.

Susan "Bird" Rathbun is living in Boulder, CO, where she is attending real estate school. "Bird" is having a wonderful time and enjoys riding through the mountains on her new motorcycle.

Marcia Devendorf is majoring in English this year at Kenyon College in Gambier, OH. Marcia finds the work challenging, but rewarding. She spent the weekend in Boston with Cindy Larson a few months ago.

Midori Komatsu will be a senior at Simmons College in the fall.

Grace "Yumi" Kagami has a job with the Yamaha Music Company in Tokyo, Japan.

Brooke Larsen is now at the NY School of Interior Design.

Alumnae Events

Alumnae receptions will be held in the following locations. All are welcome.

Detroit

Tuesday, October 27
at the home of Linda Sadlier Van Lokeren '58
34 Beverly Road
Grosse Pointe, Michigan

The Pine Manor Club of Fairfield County will once again sponsor the Darien Dinner Theatre Benefit
Thursday, November 12
6:00 PM

For more information on any of these events, please contact the Pine Manor Alumnae Relations Office, (617) 731-7126

Correction:

In the spring issue of the Bulletin Marilee Beach's name was inadvertently printed as Marilyn Beach in "A Letter to the President." We apologize for our error. A.F.R., Editor.

Reunion Weekend, 1981

a.

b.

c.

d.

a. Barbara Gracey, '76, looks over the schedule with Pine Manor English instructor Beverly Alexander.

b. Lucy Keeler Stanton, '41, Eldon Chapman, and Betsy Feemster Jameson, also '41, get acquainted.

c. President Rosemary Ashby with Emily Taussig Sherman and Frances Thayer Chapman, both celebrating their 50th reunion.

d. Stanley Auslander and Betty Harnischfeger Ogden, '41.

Pine Manor College Bulletin
400 Heath Street
Chestnut Hill, MA 02167

Second-Class Postage Paid at Boston, Massachusetts

